CHECK ON INSURANCE

Investigators Claim Widow and Neighbor Friend Knew About $12,500 Policy.

(By Associated Press)

NORWALK—The arrest of a third person in the death of Carl Schlett, 29, which the state charges was a bizarre "murder by automobile," was foreseen today by State Highway Patrolman Ray Abrahams.

Blond Mrs. Coletta Schlett, 28, widow of the riding enthusiast and paper factory employe, and Harold Hastings, 35, a neighbor of the Sandusky couple, are held on first degree murder charges.

"Our investigation is not ended," said Abrams, assigned to the case after Schlett's battered body was found beside a country highway Jan. 27. "Be believe a third person not yet arrested is involved."

In Sandusky, He Claims.

Russell Ramsey, Hasting's counsel, said his client had not left Sandusky on the night Schlett met death 15 miles away.

"On that night I never saw Schlett any place," Ramsey quoted Hastings. "I look at this thing just like I'm reading a newspaper story about somebody else and I'm wondering who it could be."

Ramsey said Hastings, identified by police as an ex-convict, told him that on the night of Jan. 26 he drove to a Sandusky casino, near which his car collided with a truck, damaging the auto's headlight and fender.

"Hastings said he went to the truck driver's home, visited with friends in the neighborhood and returned to the casino," Ramsey added. "Then he went to the police station and reported the truck accident. He reached home a little after 9 p. m."

Mrs. Schlett, who has a 6-year-old daughter, Donna Jean, was quoted by her mother, Mrs.

Mansion Ruined By Midnight Blaze

The photograph above shows the ruins of the residence of R. E. Imhoff, 580 Woodhill road, which last night was ravaged by fire which completely destroyed the garage and entire second story of the structure with an estimated damage of $40,000. Lower picture shows the garage, where the blaze is believed to have started, with Imhoff's two automobiles buried beneath smoldering timbers.

Better Protection!

AN EDITORIAL

WHATEVER doubt may have existed as to the urgent need for prompter fire-fighting and better water facilities for protection of property in the southwest section of Mansfield was dispelled last night when a seemingly minor blaze in Woodland developed into a destructive fire before firemen could reach the scene and bring it under control.

For a number of years there has been insistent demand for an additional fire station in the west part of the city, and on a number of occasions preliminary steps have been taken along this line, but never to the point of accomplishment.

Always the excuse has been that no money was available for this purpose—with the result that the matter was dropped.

Lack of sufficient water pressure, due to inadequate mains, despite the construction of a new water tower in Woodland, was also brought forcibly to notice, and immediate attention should be given this problem.

In a city such as Mansfield there are certain essential services which the municipality is obligated to provide—including fire protection and an adequate water supply to assure this protection.

While it may not be generally realized, Mansfield's tax rate for operation of municipal services is extremely low, as compared with other Ohio cities in similar population group.

The loss incurred in a single fire such as that of last night would go far toward financing construction of an additional fire station in the district where it is badly needed.

Not only should all of the circumstances entering into the delay involved in reaching and handling last night's fire be fully investigated, but no further time should be lost in acting on long delayed plans to erect and equip a new fire station suitable for the needs of this rapidly developing residential section of Mansfield.

TARDY LENIENCY PLEA SUBMITTED

Plymouth Residents Ask Mercy for Ex-Village Clerk, Sentenced to Pen.

Signed by 150 residents of Plymouth, a plea for leniency for A. F. Marvin, 40, former Plymouth village clerk, had arrived too late today to do any good for Marvin, under a one-to-10-year sentence in the penitentiary for embezzlement.

Atty. L. H. Beam, who represented Marvin at a hearing last Monday when the former clerk was sentenced, revealed he had received the petition from friends of Marvin, who wanted him placed on probation.

Atty. Beam indicated he would turn the petition over to Judge C. H. Huston who sentenced Marvin, but said he "didn't think it would do much good" now.

JURY NAMES 12

Pennsy Dem Leaders Indicted on Three Fraud Charges.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(UP)—Twelve Pennsylvania Democratic leaders were indicted by the Dauphin county January grand jury today on charges of political "macing," misuse of highway funds and conspiracy to monopolize the state's bonding and insurance business.

The indictments had been recommended by the September grand jury which three months ago began an investigation into graft and corruption charges against the "Little New Deal" administration of former Gov. George H. Earle.

Three former cabinet officers were among those named in the indictments.

DENIES SLAPPING BEAUTY WINNER

Cleveland Air Race Director Says He Sought To Protect Self.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Cliff Henderson, managing director of Cleveland's national air races, denied today accusations of Vivian Coe, the current "Miss Los Angeles," that he slapped her and knocked her down in an argument near Earl Carroll's theater restaurant.

Henderson had been ordered to appear before the district attorney tomorrow.

"I didn't strike her," said Henderson, who operates an auditorium here. "I put up my hand to defend myself as she started a punch at me, and as I did she ran away, screaming that I had struck her."

Miss Coe appeared at the 1939 national air races as "Miss Hollywood."

POST'S LAST VET DIES

Ohio Pledges Aid To Carry Out Beer 'Clean Up' Pleas

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A prompt pledge of co-operation was given state officials today in reply to demands that Ohio beer dealers and distributors "clean house."

Several hundred representatives of the malt beverage industry met at a conference yesterday and were told by Liquor Director Jacob R. Taylor that if the industry failed to comply with rules and regulations "we are fully prepared to use every legal means x x x to gain compliance where it is not willingly granted."

William Bruckman of Cincinnati, president of the Buckeye Brewers' association, assured that his group had "full confidence in the liquor department" and would "co-operate fully." Louis Chester of Columbus, secretary of the Wholesale Beer Distributors' association of Ohio, said a code of ethics intended to halt malpractices had been drafted.

The representatives, called to a conference similar to one between Taylor and distillers in January, heard Gov. John W. Bricker pledge his support to Taylor.

BLAZE ON LINER

French Ship Damaged, Prevent Flames From Reaching Oil.

ST. NAZAIRE, France—(AP)—The new 30,000-ton South Atlantic liner Pasteur was seriously damaged today by fire of undetermined origin which at one time threatened to ignite a large quantity of crude oil in the vessel's storage tanks.

The Pasteur's predecessor, the Atlantique, burned Jan. 4, 1933. The Pasteur was launched Feb. 15, 1938, and was scheduled to enter service about June.

HERBERT RULES ON UCC POSTS

Claims 'Ripper' Legislation Doesn't Abolish Positions of Employes, But—

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert ruled today that enactment of the bill reorganizing the old unemployment compensation commission did not abolish positions of its employes.

The ruling was made in an opinion to Herschel C. Atkinson, newly-appointed administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Just previous to the ruling, Lucian F. Jenness of Chillicothe, one of 16 branch managers of the commission who were dismissed at the expiration of 90-day probationary periods, asked the Ohio supreme court to issue a writ of mandamus to compel Atkinson to reinstate him.

Jenness' petition denied that his services had been inefficient and

DIES IN PLUNGE

Divorced Wife of Monte Banks Falls 6 Floors in N. Y.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Mrs. Gladys Frazin Banks, former actress and divorced wife of Monte Banks, associate producer for 20th Century Fox Film company, died early today in a plunge from the sixth floor apartment of her parents in West End avenue.

Mrs. Banks, who was attired only in her night clothes, left a note saying she could not stand to suffer any longer. Relatives said she had been melancholy since a recent nervous breakdown.

Her father, Louis Frazin, associated with a smelting and refining company, identified the body.

The former actress, about 38, appeared on the stage af Gladys Frazin and as Gladys Frazin Banks.

FLYING BOAT IN FORCED LANDING

British Ship Sends Out SOS, Boat Rushes To It With Gas.

LONDON—(UNS)—The giant Imperial Airways flying boat Cambria, carrying five passengers and a crew of five, made a forced landing at sea fifteen miles off Mozambique on the eastern coast of African last night, according to word received in London today.

The forced landing was necessitated by a shortage of fuel. The airplane sent out an S. O. S. and was refuelled by a Portuguese tug sent to its aid.

The flight was then resumed, the Cambria landing under its own power at Port Lumbo near Mozambique.

HUGHES BETTER

The 76-year-old justice has been confined to his home since last week-end suffering from a mild attack of the grippe.

ECONOMY BLOC MAPS FIGHT ON 'REVAMP BILL'

APPROVED 246 TO 153

Representatives Stay With Party Lines in Passing Roosevelt Legislation.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Senate Republicans and economy-minded Democrats prepared today for an assault on the house-approved reorganization bill which would give the president limited authority to reshuffle permanent and emergency federal agencies.

After stifling a revolt that threatened to curtail materially the chief executive's power, the house passed the controversial measure last night by a vote of 246 to 153.

Gets 8 G. O. P. Votes

The vote was almost strictly along party lines, 234 Democrats, eight Republicans, one American Laborite, one Farmer Laborite and two Progressives voting for it. Against it were 148 Republicans and five Democrats.

Administration leaders predicted that a similar bill would be approved by the senate, and that there would be no repetition of last year's battle when 29 days were consumed in debate on a measure which Republicans and some Democrats charged would have given the president dictatorial powers in the reorganization of the executive department.

Chairman James F. Byrnes, D., S. C., of the senate reorganization committee, said last night that the issue had been "thoroughly covered," and that there was "no disposition" on his part to hold hearings on the house bill.

Effective in 60 Days.

Byrnes, who has introduced a companion bill in the senate, planned to sponsor the house proposal, which permits the president's reorganization suggestions to become effective automatically within 60 days after their submission to congress unless both senate and house reject them.

Practically the entire Republican membership and a substantial bloc of anti-New Deal Democrats, however, began conferences on strategy to win approval of a bill proposed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.), which would nullify reorganization proposals unless the two congresional branches approved them within 20 days.

House Democrats narrowly averted an embarrassing defeat on the reorganization measure on an amendment offered by Rep. Hatton W. Sumners, (D-Tex.), that would have given either the house or senate power to block any proposed reorganization plan

NAZI SITUATION STUDIED BY POPE

Rumor Says Hitler Dispatches Message to New Pontiff.

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Authoritative Germans reported today that Pope Pius XII had discussed the church situation in Germany when he received the four German cardinals on Monday.

They said it was impossible to disclose the nature of the discussion "because of the great delicacy of the situation."

German quarters, however, expressed the hope that relations between the vatican and Germany might be improved.

Officials at the German ambassy asserted nothing was known there of a message Chancellor Hitler was reported to have sent the pontiff.

BERGEN STRICKEN

Charlie McCarthy's Creator Taken Ill While On Train.

NEW YORK—(UNS)—Stricken with an attack of influenza, Edgar Bergen, the creater of Charlie McCarthy, was speeding to New York today aboard the 20th Century limited under a physician's care.

STORE WRECKED

Truck and Trailer Crashes Into Confectionery in Wild Run.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A 12-ton, 22-foot truck and trailer went "bullish" today, wrecked an East Side confectionery store, then nosed through the wall of an adjoining barber shop.

Damage was estimated by police at $7,000 after the truck crashed through the confectionery store window, broke showcases and overturned tables, pushed a soda fountain through a partition into the barber shop, and then caught fire.

Low Woodland Supply Shown In $40,000 Fire

Seeburger, Answering Charges of 'Undue Delay,' Says Hydrants Could Handle Only 2 Hose Lines; Flames Rout 5 In Imhoff Family, 2 Servants.

BULLETIN

Firemen were called to answer two alarms, almost simultaneously at 1 p. m. today. Headquarters said one was on Coul street and the other on Oak street.

A $40,000 fire that last night levelled the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Imhoff, 580 Woodhill road, today had disclosed the inadequacy of the water supply in the Woodland district.

Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger, called before Mayor Claude M. Hunter and Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist to explain what had been charged as an "undue delay" by the fire department in answering the alarm, termed the water supply "totally insufficient."

Seeburger said at the meeting this morning that although four pumpers were on the scene last night, only two hose lines could be connected to a hydrant because of the small-sized water main on the street.

The chief reported that the first two companies on the scene had connected pumpers to the hydrant at Woodhill and Shepard roads, less than 500 feet from the house, while other apparatus stood idle while hose connections were made directly to the hydrant at Woodhill and Overlook.

Seeburger said firemen could not attach another pump to the line on Woodhill road because there was only a four-inch main on the street and that the two hose lines already connected taxed the supply to capacity.

His charges that the pressure in Woodland district were wholly inadequate were met by a firm denial by City Engineer C. W. Statler who said that the new 150,000 gallon elevated tank in Woodland furnished pressures equal to that in any part of the city.

Residents Charge Delay.

Meanwhile irate residents in the Woodland area today not only complained because of the lack of an adequate water supply in that area but also charged the fire department with failure to give prompt service.

Several persons in the vicinity of the Imhoff home said that it was "at least" a half an hour after the alarm was turned in that water was applied to the blaze.

Seeburger told the mayor and service director that the ticker tape which records the alarms received from fire alarm boxes

DROP BOMBS ON 'RED' BOLTERS

Foes of 'Peace With Honor' Plan Attacked as Revolt Flares Anew.

(By United Press)

MADRID—Airplanes and infantry of the defense council opened an attack in force today on Communist troops who had rebelled against a "peace with honor" program intended to bring the civil war to an end.

Airplanes bombed Communist troop concentrations in the suburbs and infantry shock troops attacked isolated groups holding out in the city proper.

It was indicated that the revolting troops had defied orders of their leaders to surrender and that no alternative had been left to the defense council but to attack.

Gen. Jose Miaja and his associates on the defense council had believed yesterday that they had crushed the revolt. They had sent an ultimatum to the leaders demanding surrender. As for the main body of the Communist troops in the suburbs, the defense council had said that its own men would not fire on the Communists unless they were attacked.

PLEADS TODAY

Shiloh Farmer Faces Huston on Assault Charge.

Frank Reddick, 50, R. D. 2, Shiloh, was to be brought before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston this afternoon on an assault and battery charge growing out of an alleged attack on Joseph Zmejack, 50, of near Shiloh, Tuesday night. Reddick is in the county jail.

Zmejack, who suffered head and face injuries and body bruises, is in the Willard Municipal hospital. His condition, however, is not believed serious.

Prosecutor G. W. Marriott said the altercation occurred at Zmejack's farm east of Shiloh and apparently was the result of an attempt of Zmejack to force Reddick to move from a farm owned by Zmejask.

Deputy Sheriffs J. R. Hetler and G. C. Humphrey arrested Reddick Tuesday night and brought him to the county jail.

PROBE LASHING

Pennsy Acts as Reform School Boy Displays Welts.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The western Pennsylvania section of the committee on penal affairs asked Gov. Arthur H. James today to investigate the lashing 17-year-old Steve Kasper said he received at the Boys' Industrial school at Oakdale, near here.

The boy appeared at the Beaver county court house and exhibited welts and blood-stained bruises he said an overseer inflicted with a leather strap because he overheard the boy tell another inmate "Let's get the hell out of here."

War Referendum Proponents Get Promise of Vote

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Advocates of a national war referendum, which the administration opposes, won a promise today of a showdown senate vote at this session.

Senators La Follette (Prog., Wis.) and Clark (D., Mo.), two of the 12 sponsors of the proposed constitutional amendment, received assurances from a judiciary subcommittee that hearings would be held soon.

This disclosure coincided with information from members of the house military committee that their group had approved a plan for accepting strategic war minerals in part payment of European war debts or in exchange for surplus agricultural products.

The scheme was inserted in a bill authorizing the war department to spend $100,000,000 over a four-year period for reserves of manganese, tin, chrome ore and other minerals in which the country is deficient.

The war referendum proposal would require a popular vote before the United States could go to war, except in case of foreign attacks on any nation in the western hemisphere.

A similar plan was killed in the house last year after the president and Secretary Hull had opposed it.

RECORD HIGH

FHA Reports Applications For Loans Hit New Peak.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Housing Administration announced today that applications for mortgage insurance on small homes jumped last week to a new record high of $32,263,496.

This compared with $21,425,892 the previous week and $17,613,402 in the comparable week last year. The previous high, $31,504,214 was reached last October.

EUROPE AND ITS WOES ANALYZED IN NEW BOOKS

Bromfield's Brochure Scoring Premier Chamberlain Among Additions at Library.

Among the new books on Europe which have been added to the Public library this week is the brochure recently published by Harpers and written by Louis Bromfield on "England: A Dying Oligarchy."

Bromfield's monograph is written in criticism of the British government's foreign policy and is a bitter attack on Premier Chamberlain and the minority which dictates the foreign policy.

"Betrayal In Central Europe; Austria and Czechoslovakia, The Fallen Bastons" is written by G. E. R. Gedye, who is well qualified to write on the Central European situation as he was foreign correspondent for both the New York Times and the London Daily Telegraph, contains some startling facts which never reached the newspapers.

Hamilton Fish Armstrong deals with the same subject in his "Where There Is No Peace," showing the sequence of events which culminated momentarily in Munich and which are now piling toward a new climax.

"Cross and Swatika" by Frey; "The German Reich and Americans of German Origin;" "Why Hitler Came Into Power," Abel; "Decline and Fall of The British Empire," Briffault; and "Guns or Butter" by Lockhart, are other books on the subject which is uppermost in the minds of people today.

Sherwood's Play on Lincoln.

Robert Sherwood's play "Abe Lincoln In Illinois" is a simple and direct piece of theater work. Into 12 scenes Sherwood has put the poignant drama of this great American soul and his genius.

With a few days of spring-like weather, there comes a reminder that it will soon be circus days. "This Way To The Big Show" by Dexter Fellows and Andrew A. Freeman, published about two years ago but which has just been added to the Mansfield library after a number of requests, is filled with interesting highlights of the American circuses of the past half century.

Other new non-fiction this week at the library includes:

"Self You Have to Live With" by Rhoades; "Philosophy of Henry George," Geiger; "Social Security In the U. S., 1938;" "State Sales Tax," Nichols; "The Three Sevens," Phelon; "Star-craft," Barton and Joseph: "Motor and Control Applications," Hall; "High-Speed Diesel Engines," Morrison; "This Man La Guardia," Limpus and Leyson; "Adventures In Bird Protection," Pearson; "Surmarine: The Autobiography of Simon Lake," Lake; "Best Poems of 1938" edited by Moult; "Hedges, Screens and Windbreaks," Beals.

"Konigsmark" by A. E. W. Mason is a novel of the love of Philip Christopher Konigsmark, soldier of fortune and the last son of a noble Swedish family, for Sophia Dorothea, beautifue daughter of the Duke of Celle, who was married against her will to George Louis, son of the Elector of Hanover.

"The Land Is Bright" by Archie Binns is a novel of the journey to the new Pacific coast territory in the 1850's over the Oregon Trail.

Other fiction: "Wind Without Rain" by Herbert Krause; "Salute to Freedom," Eric Lowe; "Golden Tales of Canada" edited by Becker; "She Was Carrie Eaton," Corbett; "Clue of the Artificial Eye," Fletcher; "Murder to Hounds," Acheson.

The Best Skeet-Shooting Team in the East

This is probably one of the most unusual sports teams in existence — unusual because it includes, left to right, a high-school student, a fish dealer, a farmer, a junior-high-school boy, and an economist. The men and boys form the Massachusetts Fish and Game club skeet team, considered the best shooting outfit in the east. Left to right, by names: Dick Shaughnessy, "Dud" Shallgross, Elliot Moore, Jack Horton and Bob Canfield. Shaughnessy set a world record breaking 295 of 300 targets in three events of the Middle Atlantic States championship. Canfield, who is secretary-treasurer of a New York corporation is captain of the team.

PLAN SECOND USED CAR WEEK

Mansfield Auto Dealers to Launch Annual Exchange Event Saturday.

Mansfield automobile dealers were "sprucing up" their stock of used cars today in preparing for the second annual city-wide used car exchange which will open Saturday and continue for one week.

Reconditioned automobiles with a total value of $235,000 will be offered for sale or trade during the week by nine dealers who pointed out that due to the number of trade-ins, the selection of used cars this spring is one of the largest ever offered in the city.

Because of the crowded market, prices will be lower than in past years, they contend.

Dealers who will participate in the exchange week are Colby and Earick, Inc.; Crider Motors corporation, Douglas Miller, Inc.; Herring Motor Car company; Mersch Motor Sales company; Mohican Chevrolet company; R. E. Moorhear, Swisher and Shafer Auto company, and Weidner Motor Sales.

Used car values will be listed daily during exchange week on the classified pages of The News-Journal.

Sports Annex City Title In Rough-and-Tumble Game

Hand Westies, 38-28, Setback

Yuncker Team Looks Forward to Chuckovits Tilt; Strengthens Lineup With Tom Farrell.

By CHARLES MARTIN

WITH their second consecutive City Class A basketball league championship safely tucked away, the Yuncker Sports looked ahead today to their meeting with "Chuck" Chuckovits and his college All Star quintet at Mansfield high Wednesday night.

Manager Jimmy Breres' high-scoring combine with Tom Farrell added to the lineup, tackle the collegiate aggregation in the feature tussle on a two-game program. Another out-of-town club, probably the Bliss college five of Columbus, will play the Westinghouse Electrics in the opening contest.

Yuncker's outfit, playing with John Reese on the sidelines, annexed the City league crown at Senior high last night by topping an inspired Westinghouse machine, 38 to 28, in an affray that developed into a rough-and-tumble melee after the intermission.

Elks Beat All Stars.

In the opening tilt last night, the Elks Lodge defeated an All Star team from the Friendly House Senior league, 36 to 31, in an interesting game.

Coach Breres' had only five men available for duty, but once their passing attack began to function they forged ahead to hold an advantage that was never seriously threatened.

The Sports found themselves on the short end of the score for nearly two periods and then staged a rally that carried them through.

Bob Burgett, Butler high coach, whom Breres recently added to the club's roster, played only a few minutes with his teammates before last night, but proved a valuable asset to the team.

The county coach's tricky passing and fast breaks beneath the basket at times caught the Electrics flat-footed. He didn't locate the basket until the second half, but contributed six points to the Sports' rally.

The contest developed into a nip-and-tuck affair in the opening half. Not more than three points separated the two clubs and the score was knotted on three occasions.

With the score tied at 18-all at the rest period, the Sports, paced by Al Stickler and Burgett, suddenly came to life to pile up seven points before the Westies were able to dent the winners' defense for a single marker.

The Westies, who had trouble all evening in converting foul shots, tried desperately to overtake the Sports in the final period, but were unable to match the Yuncker team's great scoring power.

Percy's club had 14 free throws, but Ray Friday, who led the losers, with nine points, was the only member to make good on one throw.

Westinghouse led, 8 to 6, in the opening quarter, while the Sports held a 25 to 21 advantage going into the last stanza.

Stickler, who was shifted to Reese's center post, set the individual tempo with 10 points, with Harold Hayfer and Burgett contributing eight apiece.

Reese, regular center, Glenn Irey, guard and Joe Atton, a forward were absent from the Sports' bench last night. Reese and Irey are ill with the flu, and Atton is suffering from an ankle injury.

The All-Star team, selected from the Senior A league, gave the Elks some uncomfortable moments before the final gun.

Both clubs started slow, but once they found the range put on an opening period scoring exhibition the like of which has not been witnessed in the league this year.

The Elks held an 8 to 5 advantage with three minutes to go in that quarter when the fireworks started. And before it was over the Lodgemen were leading, 20 to 13.

Lead All-Stars.

Led by Kenny Hardin, who flipped in 11 points, the All-Stars went ahead, 3 to 2, in the early minutes of the game, but after the Elks gained the lead, were unable to cope with the situation.

The Elks led, 24 to 19, at the half, and 34 to 26 at the end of the third period. The All-Stars limited the Lodgemen to a single field goal in the last chapter, but couldn't overtake them.

Orville Kibler was the high-point man of the contest with 12 points, and Farrell, who left the game at the opening of the final quarter, accounted for eight markers. Bob Boyd of the All-Stars turned in a nifty performance in controlling the ball on rebounds.

Good As New

Outfitted with an artificial leg to replace the one he lost in a hunting accident last fall, Monty Stratton, Chicago White Sox pitcher, hopes to be able to pitch again some day. Stratton is shown at his Dallas home. On April 17 in Chicago, the Cubs and the White Sox will play a pre-season game, with all receipts going to the courageous righthander.

Masked Giant Added to Card

Meets Soldier Thomas in First Match Friday.

The Masked Marvel, latest veiled light-heavyweight to appear in the midwest, will oppose Soldier Thomas of Fort Riley, Kan., in the opener of Friday's wrestling card in the Armory. Signing of the match completes the card to be offered under the sponsorship of the Mansfield Quality club.

Hart

The Friday attraction is exclusively in the light-heavyweight division, with two of the six matmen holding positions among the first five matmen in the world. Kimon Kudo, rated No 2 by M. W. A., collides with Whitey Wahlberg, rated No. 4 by the same group in what should prove to be one of the greatest contests ever offered here.

Frankie Hart and Sammy Vangler, billed for action in the semi-final, are two more formidable grapplers. Both are scientific and usually scorn the borderline tactics indulged in by their more ferocious brethren, yet their styles are dynamic and colorful. Hart is especially popular in this locality and may be heard from in the current scramble for the crown now boasted by the Great Mephisto.

CLEVELANDERS LOSE

BOSTON —(AP)— Jack Pallat, 201½, Cleveland, was knocked out in the fifth round last night by Maurice Strickland, 192, New Zealand. Marty Seaman, 190, Cleveland, disqualified after the second round of his bout with Patrick Edward Comiskey, 196, Paterson, N J.

Chuckovits Selected On INS All-Ohio Team.

Chuck Chuckovits, Toledo university cage star, who will bring his all-star team to Mansfield high school Wednesday night to meet the Yuncker Sports, today was named on the International News Service All-Ohio quintet.

At forwards on the all-state five are Frankie Baumholtz, Ohio University sophomore, and Chuckovits. At center was another senior, Steve Nesha of Marietta and the guard posts went to Wooster's Dave Henderson and Xavier's Donavan, also seniors.

Tygers, Cubs Resume Title Play Friday

Delay Celebration Plans for Time Being, at Least.

Everything was quiet on the basketball front out at Mansfield high school today.

But this doesn't exactly mean that the Tygers have ideas that their coming imbroglio with Willard's Crimson Flashes in the district semi-finals in Sandusky Friday evening will be easy.

Tygers Not Cocky.

Mr. Russ Murphy's men cannot be accused of being cocky. They seem to realize that there are no laws prohibiting such a thing as an upset in tournament play.

The Tygers also seem to realize that Willard is their current problem, not Bellvue's Redmen, who have been conceded a victory over Fremont by the experts in the other semi-final tilt Friday.

It has been evident in the play of the Tygers in the district classic that they are deadly earnest about winning the championship.

They won it last year with virtually the same lineup, and they might turn the trick again this week, but they are delaying plans for a celebration until later.

And, as one player was heard to remark, "maybe there won't be any need for a celebration."

The Tygers are slated to battle Willard at 7:30 p. m., with the Bellevue-Fremont tilt following at 8:45.

Lucas Invades Carey.

Not all of Mansfield's tournament interest will be concentrated on the Sandusky games Friday.

Lucas high school will take a big following to Carey Friday for an 8 p. m., tussle with Arcadia of Hancock county in the Class B district elimination.

Coach Alfred Axe's Cubs are rated very highly in current tournament dope, and they are picked to turn back the challenge of Arcadia.

Here's News---Joe's in Camp

It's news when Joe DiMaggio arrives in training camp with his contract signed and physically fit to play. The Yankee outfielder, either hampered by illness or contract troubles in previous seasons, is shown taking a cut at the ball at the Yank camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. Buddy Rosar, rookie, is the catcher. Joe is believed to have signed for $26,000.

Opening of A. B. C., Inter-City Tournaments Puts Bowling In Ohio Spotlight This Week

Mansfield Tire Teams Bowl In Findlay Saturday; Attack Cleveland Sticks In April.

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

MAPLE KNOCKERS of this vicinity will make their first assault on the uprights in the 28th renewal of the Inter-City bowling tournament on Walter Wellman's slides in Findlay this week-end.

Only 10 Mansfield teams will participate in the classy district tournament, but they represent the city strongest aggregations, and they should figure well in the distribution of the prize money.

The Main Office and Foremen clubs of the Mansfield Tire league will lead the Mansfield invasion to Findlay Saturday. They are scheduled to take to the drives at 9 p. m.

The next appearance of Mansfield teams will be made on the following Saturday when the Mansfield Printers, Office Cafe and Satterlee Restaurants invade Findlay Moose No 1, Roma Lunch and Meder Recreation teams will bowl the next day, and the Mansfield Rugs and Lumbermens Mutuals will conclude the Manstield assault on Sunday, March 26.

Approximately 200 teams will be involved in the battle for chunks of the $5,000 prize fund. The top prize of $125 goes to the five-man champions, $70 to the winning doubles team, $50 to the singles champion and $25 to the all-events leader.

Defending champions are the New Way Nite club of Alliance, which splattered 3281 sticks to the pits to win the title on its own alleys last year, and Art Graham and Vic Maurer of Dover, who shot a 1342 series to annex the doubles laurels. Graham annexed the singles crown with a 721 count and added 1998 pins to win the all-events title.

Mansfield has not been represented by a champion in the event since the Sandusky tournament in 1936 when the Milan Spring Beers took team honors with a 3038 and Reggie Bookman and Orin Grable hoisted a 1306 to win the doubles title. Maybe this will be the year for Mansfield to come back.

A campaign has already been launched to bring the tournament to Mansfield next winter.

First of 17,000 Bowlers Hit A. B. C. Wood Tonight.

BOWLING enthusiasm will reach a new all-time high in Cleveland tonight when the first pins are blasted from their spots in this year's American Bowling Congress, the nation's biggest sporting event, and many Mansfielders are expected to be in the stands at the Lakeside Exposition hall to see the opening.

A total of 17,000 keglers will bowl in the Cleveland event which will continue for 59 days. Thirty-two brand new alleys have been installed in the underground hall at a cost of $50,000. The alleys were sold second-hand before they even started to build them.

All of the pins to be used in Cleveland have also been sold. Each team will use a new set of pins. This means that 41,450 sticks will be battered for scores. A set of pins is listed at $11.85, which means that something like $50,000 will be spent for this purpose alone.

Two carloads of lumber were used to build the foundation of the alleys, one carload of two-by-fours and another of two-by-sixes. The alleys themselves are of maple and pine, two and a quarter by one inch tongue and groove boards.

It is figured that there are 48,728 lineal feet of maple and 56,448 feet of pine in the alleys.

Regulation alleys are built with 32 feet of maple, 42 feet of pine and another five feet of maple.

And to keep the runways clean during the competition, bowlers' shoes will be inspected as they take to the alleys.

Mansfield teams will strut their wares in the A. B. C. war late in April, when they hope, the alleys will be well "broken in."

SALTZGABER HOLDS HIGH GUN AS JUNIORS WIN

The Mansfield Junior Rifle club defeated the Ashland Junior club, 438 to 430, in a match at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Saltzgaber was high for the Mansfield club with a 90 score.

The scores: Mansfield—Saltzgaber 90, Elder 87, Flood 84, Campbell 89, Colby 88.

Akron Quintets Dominate Play

Rubber City Teams Threaten to Win Four of Five Positions In District Tournament.

By JIM EMERSON

COLUMBUS—(UP)—A cry of "stop Akron" rang out among Class A northeastern Ohio high school basketball teams today as they battled for five entries in the state meet at Columbus next week.

A snappy representation of Rubber City schoolboy fives threatened to win four of the five positions as district tournament play was resumed over most of the state.

Garfield Heights from the Cleveland area mitigated the threat last night by eliminating Akron Central, 28 to 25, at Akron, but Akron Garfield waltzed to its third easy tourney victory by walloping Brookfield, 50 to 27.

Still In Running.

Four other Akron quints—Hower, South, Buchtel and North—are still in the running although Hower and North are competing in the same bracket for one tourney berth. Last year Buchtel, St. Vincent's and East from Akron went to Columbus but four representatives from one city this year would set a new record.

The fifth northeast entry will go either to Massillon or Canton township. Playing its best ball of the year, Massillon rolled to a third tourney win last night by a score of 36 to 20 with Fairport Harbor the victim.

Canton township became the "surprise" team of the strong northeast sector by upsetting the Youngstown Rayen, 34 to 32, in two overtime periods. It was the second successive overtime tourney win for Canton.

In the only other tourney action last night, Malinta-Gelton, which ranks with Green township of Scioto county as the state's only unbeaten schoolboy fives, rolled over a strong Payne club, 36 to 28, in the Class B meet at Leipsic in the northwestern district. It was the 25th win of the year for Malinta which held opponents to an average of 21 points per game during the regular schedule.

Farmer trounced Continental, 43 to 18, and Maumee beat Sherwood, 34 to 24, in the other games at Leipsic.

Resume Play Tonight.

Further playoffs in 11 districts will be held tonight. Strasburg, winner of 23 of 24 games, and Philo, winner of 19 of 23 games, meet in the Class B feature at Dennison. Akron Buchtel and Struthers, two Class A aggregations who have overpowered past opposition, clash at Akron. The Rittman vs. Hartville duel at Kent may decide one Class B state entry.

Class A teams will resume at Tiltonsville, Dennison, Akron, Napoleon and Dayton and Class B fives at Westerville, Dennison, Kent, Fremont, Springfield and Dayton.

Farms Can End Race Tonight

Meet Dairys in Last Game on Settlement Bill.

Primed for a tough tussle, the Raemelton Farm cagers will attempt to realize championship hopes tonight when they meet the Miller Dairys in the last game on the final Senior league program.

The second round race will be completed if the Farmers win tonight. If they lose, every team in the league except the Augustine Canfields sport chances to tie the Farmers for the title.

The Blue Goose Sohioans and Musille Cigars open the bill at 6.45 p. m., and the Rex Billiards face the Augustine Canfields tangle in the middle tilt.

Sonny Meder Rolls 709 In Tandem Loop

Climaxes 260 Game With Eight Straight Strikes; Winnie Cleckner Collects 668.

CLARENCE (SONNY) MEDER rapped out another 700 total last night to lead the scoring in the Class A City Doubles league at the Meder alleys.

Young Meder hit the 709 figures as he and his partner, Dale Cleckner, who spilled 620, came through with a 1329 total and a clean sweep over Neil Swank and Winnie Cleckner.

Meder opened with a 225, jumped to 260 in his middle game and climaxed the spectacular string with a 224. He finished with eight straight strikes in his last game.

Winnie Cleckner was next high with a 668, which he added from scores of 233, 224 and 211.

Cliff Forsythe, who toppled 640 sticks, and Duke Weber won two games from Cecil Burdette and Fred McKinley, and Carl Heilman and Joe Cheney took a pair of tilts from Eugene Funston and Jack Applan in the other matches.

BARONS STILL NEED ONE MORE WIN TO HIT FINALS

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The Cleveland Barons today still needed a single victory to put them definitely in the playoffs for the International-American league hockey championships.

For the Barons last night dropped another game, this time to the cellar-dwelling New Haven Eagles, 4 and 3. The Cleveland defense went to pieces, as it has in the last few games, and Goalie Mo Roberts found himself bombarded just a bit too much. Phil Hergesheimer continued his scoring spree for the Barons, making two goals. Lorne Guguid scored the third.

FLU GERM MAY WHIP MICHIGAN TRACKSTERS

CHICAGO —(INS)— A tiny flu germ may accomplish what has defied the best efforts of Big Ten trackmen for five years—the upset of Michigan as conference track champion.

A checkup today revealed that several athletes scheduled to perform in the annual western conference indoor track meet at the University of Chicago tomorrow and Saturday have been ill with influenza, with their appearance problematical. The Wolverines are favored on form to win their sixth straight title.

Allen Joins Squad

Vitt Enthused Over Play of Ray Mack, Thinks He "May Stay."

NEW ORLEANS—(U.P.)—Frankie Pytlak, pint-sized catcher of the Cleveland Indians, was en route to training camp today after signing his 1939 contract yesterday. Bob Feller and Mel Harder have begun to put a little more "zing" in their pitches. There isn't a first baseman in camp. Hal Trosky is due to arrive tonight or tomorrow. Rollie Hemsley arrived in camp looking fit and ready, disproving reports of poor condition. Manager Oscar Vitt has become mbre enthused over the playing of Ray Mack, rookie infielder, and thinks "he may stay."

Johnny Allen, sore arms and dental work, arrived almost simultaneously last night to provide the liveliest evening since the Indians first parked their frames in the Hotel Roosevelt lobby.

The Tribe's explosive right hander, who had his pitching arm operated on about two months ago, sauntered on the scene in a genial mood.

"Sure, I'm going to be out in uniform tomorrow," he answered the first question fired at him. "I'm not going to throw, but I'm going to work on my wind and legs.

"I feel great. I had a series of baths at Hot Springs. The old whip feels good, but you never can tell until you try."

Allen may toss easily early next week for the first test of his $20,000 arm which he subjected to the surgeon's knife about two months ago.

Lloyd Russell and Jim Shilling, rookie infielders, turned up with the sore arms yesterday which caused Vice President C. C. Slapnicka to issue blanket orders for dental examinations. Only a few of the squad, who have had their teeth examined recently, are exempt.

Crosetti, Rolfe Remain On Holdout List.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(INS)—Frankie Crosetti, shortstop, and Red Rolfe, third baseman, were still on the New York Yankees' holdout list today and indications were growing they may not be in the lineup when the Cardinal exhibition games open Saturday. The world champs were split into two camps today for the first practice game.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Clydell "Slick" Castleman was being boomed today for the New York Giants' pitching assignment in this week-end's exhibition games with the Athletics as a result of his hard work in camp. His spinal ailment of the last two seasons seems completely cured.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers said today he might put Fred Sington, 215-pounder, into center field as a result of his good showing in camp. Sington got two doubles and a long triple as the Dressens beat the Killifers in an intra-mural game.

TAMPA, Fla.—Peaches Davis and Jumbo Jim Weaver were to unlimber their pitching arms today in the second intra-squad baseball game, according to Deacon Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds, in training here. Rookies who were to try out today included Livengood, De Forge, Graham and Junior Thompson.

AVALON, Cal.—Chicago Cub Manager Gabby Hartnett today took himself out of the lineup for the four-game series which starts at the camp Friday between the Regulars and the Yannigans. Gabby also said Gus Mancuso would be kept out of action, so the younger backstops, Bob Garbak and Bill Baker could strut their stuff.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal.—Manager Pie Traynor mapped plans for the 1939 campaign today, excluding Paul Waner from the lineup. Waner declares he will not play ball at the price offered by the Bucco management this year. On the other hand, the Bucco management says Waner will not play ball unless he agrees to their terms.

Tigers' Bad Boy 20 Pounds Overweight.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Twenty pounds overweight at 204, Boots Poffenberger, the bad boy baron of the Detroit Tigers, today was proud of successfully answering Manager Del Baker's "get to work" challenge that met him when he reported days late yesterday.

Boots not only took a heavy workout, but beat rookie pitcher Jim Lynn in a footrace from home plate to second, the baron going via first base and Lynn by way of third.

The championship in the Class A Church league will not be decided until the final night of play next week.

The Park Avenue Baptists and Mayflower Congregationals registered victories again last night at the Y. M. C. A. to remain in a tie for first place in the second round.

Never more than a few points out in front, the Baptists, led by Denzil's 12 points, edged Central M. E., 27 to 23. The Baptists held a 13 to 12 advantage at the half.

Mayflower encountered less trouble as it trounced First Episcopal, 47 to 15, with every player used breaking into the scoring. Uhlich led the way with 13 points.

The Mayflower courtmen held only a 1 to 0 lead in the first period, but hit for 15 in the next quarter to hold a 16 to 5 edge at the intermission.

First Lutheran remained in a tie with First M. E., which won on a forfeit from Temple Emmanuel, by defeating St. John's Evangelical, 59 to 30. Martin, with 16 points, and Dye and Lemunyon, with 10 apiece, led the Lutherans.

Guldahl's Putting Wins 4-Ball Title

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—(AP)—That old come-from-behinder, Ralph Guhldahl, is going a-gunning for his third consecutive national open championship with a world of confidence and an improved putting touch.

Guhldahl already had the confidence but he found his touch in the $5,000 international four-ball tournament which he won with Sam Snead in a shell-shocking 7-and-6 victory over Horton Smith and Paul Runyan yesterday. The open is June 8-10 at Philadelphia.

Rarely has anyone seen a putting display to equal the one Guhldahl turned on in the four-ball finals. He knocked the ball in from all over the carpets, his putts dropping with remarkable regularity from eight feet up to 40.

LOUIS PITCHES CAMP FOR TIFF WITH ROPER

VICTORVILLE, Cal. —(INS)— Joe Louis and his gang pitched camp here today to prepare for Joe's fight in Los Angeles, April 17 with Jack Roper, veteran California heavy.

The brown bomber denied rumors he would "carry" Roper for a few rounds in order to make the fight interesting, and said he planned to get it over with as soon as possible. He has not picked the round, as yet.

LIST EXTENDS RALLY DESPITE PROFIT TAKING

New 1938-39 Highs Hit by Department Store, Motor, Telephone Stocks.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Stock market leaders managed to extend Wednesday's rally by fractions today but profit taking slowed the rise after a speedy opening.

At new 1938-39 highs in the initial upturn included General Motors, Chrysler, Greyhound, General Tire, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, and American Telephone.

Further improvement in stocks at London and sustained hopes that Washington's plans to bolster business would materialize, brokers said, continued as the main market motivator. Bonds tilted upward and commodities steadied.

Aiding market sentiment was the Dun & Bradstreet summary of bank clearings for the week ended yesterday disclosing the aggregate at the highest level since Jan. 11, in the tenth consecutive weekly rise.

Noted also was the announcement of the comptroller of currency that 5,230 national banks, as of Dec. 31, had assets totalling $1,666,177,000, an expansion of $955,231,000 over the assets of 5,245 banks on Sept. 28, last, and $1,561,947,000 above the figure shown on Dec. 31, 1937.

GOITRE NOT A DISEASE

Milwaukee, Wis.-It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock a prominent goitre specialist for over 30 years perfected a different method of treatment which has proven highly successful. He opposed needless operations. Dr. A. A. Rock Products have published a copyrighted book at their own expense which tells about goitre and this treatment and will send this book free to anyone interested. Write today to Dr. A. A. DRUGGISTS SET UP ASSOCIATION

Richland County Organization Formed at Meeting Here.

An association of Richland county druggists was formed at a meeting this week at the Mansfield-Leland hotel with Guy Lautsbaugh of the Lautsbaugh pharmacy named as acting president until the association meets again to elect officers. Meeting dates have been set for the first Monday of each month.

Henry Stype, president of the Wayne County Druggists association, spoke to the group on "Advantages of Organization Among Druggists."

The association was formed to enable the local drug stores to meet on common ground and discuss ways and means of improving the status of their respective stores," Lautsbaugh said.

Druggists represented in the association are Lautsbaugh, William Hursh, John Dunajtsik, William Tawse, John Davis, Ed Miller, Ambrose Middleton, A. J. Hursh C. C Brown, Paul Shumaker and Sam Theaker.

JAPS USING GAS?

Chinese Claim Thousands Victims of Poisonous Fumes.

LONDON — (INS) — Chinese authorities have accused Japan of using poison gas "on the greatest scale since the World war" during a recent Nipponese attack on the city of Ichang, Hong Kong reports to London newspapers said today.

Dispatches to the Daily Express and Daily Telegraph said hospitals at Ichang were filled with thousands of victims of the asserted poison gas attacks.

"WORLD'S TONIC RELIEVED FROM VERY BEGINNING"

Tells of Constipation's Effect on Nerves—Sleeping and Eating

If Not Checked Can Impair Functions of Other Important Members of Elimination Machinery

Constipation, roughly, means that the normal speed with which food is taken into the stomach, sorted out for nourishing parts, and the waste or unwanted parts turned over to the eliminating machinery to be gotton rid of, is being slowed up. In fact dangerously delayed. Just try plugging up the waste drain in your kitchen sink for a few days and you'll get a general idea. Mrs. John Hattery of 704 8th St. S. W. Massillon, Ohio who had practically a similar experience now adds her voice to the growing chorus of praise for World's Tonic

"I've been constipated for years and this affected me so badly that I often had bilious attacks which were followed by spells of vomiting and terrible nausea I couldn't do any strenuous work and time after time I have dragged myself to bed trying to recover from the results of nervous indigestion Nights were turned into a turmoil by pains, aches and irregular functioning of my kidneys My hands and feet would swell at times and I had throbbing pains in my knees so bad that getting up or sitting down was extremely painful Of course these conditions were not helping me to store up any so-called pep or energy and eating was becoming more and more a thing to be feared I'd have such distressing after effects from eating that it held little pleasure for me

"But World's Tonic gave me such splendid constipation relief from the very beginning that I kept right on taking it until all the related conditions of my constipation got the same relief. Today I feel that I am enjoying life better in every way. All my former conditions are tremendously better and I'm ever so grateful to World's Tonic."

Skillful blending of roots and herbs with valuable alkalines enables World's Tonic to help prevent premature aging which poisons accumulating from occasional constipation may bring on.

HERBERT RULES ON UCC POSTS

Claims 'Ripper' Legislation Doesn't Abolish Positions of Employes, But—

stated that there was no legal grounds for his dismissal.

The attorney general's ruling affecting 800 civil service employes who were temporarily reappointed by Atkinson pending the legal ruling held that the section of the law under which they were appointed by the old commission was not repealed by the new act.

The attorney general pointed out, however, that the administrator has the authority to consolidate functions and duties of employes and that "it is conceivable that certain duties now being performed by employes hired by the commission might be abolished."

"In such a case obviously persons discharging such duties, even though in the classified civil service, could be discharged," the attorney general added.

"Civil service laws did not require the head of the department to find work for an employe in the classified service whom he considered to be unnecessary, nor do such laws require the retention of persons whose positions it is desired to abolish in the interest of economy.

"In such case, the position may be abolished and the incumbent discharged even though he or she is wholly without fault."

Loses Leg But She Can Smile

SKUNKS IN HOUSE

SALT LAKE CITY—After months of suspicion, Val S Snow knows the horrible truth—he has skunks in his basement

While firing the furance he came onto two of them at too close range. He laid his problem before biological survey and received the comforting information skunks are excellent mousers and harmless, except when annoyed.

WORRIES OVER

Banquet Off, Roosevelt Won't Have to Cross Picket Line.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The White House Correspondent association today cancelled its annual banquet because of a strike in 11 Washington hotels and thus removed the possibility that President Roosevelt would have to decide whether to cross a labor picket line.

Mr. Roosevelt annually is a guest at the banquet, given by newspapermen accredited to the White House. The Mayflower hotel, where the banquet was to be held Saturday night, is being picketed by members of two American Federation of Labor unions part of the estimated 2,200 employes of the 13 hotels who struck yesterday.

Rather than cause embarrassment for Mr. Roosevelt the affair was cancelled.

EX-PLYMOUTH GIRL STRICKEN

NEW LONDON—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Sackett Funeral home for Miss Greta Juanita Keeler, 19, who died Tuesday in the New London hospital following a brief illness.

Rev. G. L. Kettering, pastor of the First Baptist church will officiate. Burial will be in the New Haven cemetery.

Miss Keeler, a graduate of Plymouth high school in the class of 1936, had made her home in New London for the past two years She was employed by the C. E Ward company.

She is survived by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Keeler of Plymouth and one brother, Fred of Swanton, O.

DOCTORS WARN FOLKS WHO ARE CONSTIPATED

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few BUT DON'T WORRY—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists everywhere.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are harmless. They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO assist liver bile flow to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness TONIGHT without fail! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

Your best friend should have told you: You can buy a Buick for— $894 and up delivered at Flint, Mich. *Subject to change without notice. Transportation, state and local taxes, if any, optional equipment and accessories extra.

*The model illustrated is the Buick SPECIAL model 41 four-door touring sedan $996 delivered at Flint, Mich.

WE'RE talking about that friend of yours who owns a 1939 Buick—

You've heard plenty from him, naturally, about the fresh-as-the-morning-breeze styling of his taut and trim new Buick—and the way it perks abody up just to look it over!

You've listened while he sang the praise of a ride that's like a lullaby—soft and gentle as a tender touch, but sure, unwavering, steady, in cross-wind or at speed.

No doubt you've sensed his joy at those eight cager Dynaflash cylinders, that need only the gentlest sort of hint to hike you straight to the forefront — and the snug and reassuring steadiness of this low-swung, stable stepper's gait!

All of which is well and good, and not to be disputed. But has your good friend told you this:

... That Buick's prices are easily the lowest prices for the value you'll find anywhere on automobile row?

... That this far-ranging great-hearted eight—with all the sky-larking life those extra cylinders give it—still costs less than some sixes?

... That factory list figures run anywhere from $51 to $102 less than a year ago—and that they buy worlds more in self-banking Knee-Action, Handishift transmission, 15% softer BuiCoil Springing, visibility stepped up as much as 412 square inches, any number of so-called "extras" such as the Flash-Way direction signal?

If he hasn't told you this, it's plainly time to do this:

Get dollars-and-cents figures on what the model of your choice will cost delivered in your driveway!

That will prove, we think, that Buick's the car and the value of the year. And we're certain-sure it will tell you what your best friend may have forgotten—this shining star is in your reach, so why should you be without it?

HOME FROM SCHOOL! HOME---PEACE---SAFETY- DON'T S'POSE THAT MEANS MUCH TO MOST KIDS- MILLIONS O' BOYS AN' GIRLS--- THEY, TOO, ARE COMIN' HOME FROM SCHOOL NOW-
3-9-39
BUT HOME TO MOST O' THEM IS JUST TH' PLACE THEY EAT AN' SLEEP--- AS FOR SAFETY, MOST KIDS JUST TAKE THAT FOR GRANTED, 'CEPT A FEW RICH KIDS, MAYBE--- THEY'RE GUARDED AND FIGGER IT'S ALL FOOLISHNESS-
'TWASN'T ALWAYS THAT WAY- ONCE THERE WERE INDIANS TO GRAB A STRAY KID- AND LOTS O' FOLKS SAY GYPSIES WOULD CARRY CHILDREN AWAY--AND IN TH' EARLY DAYS KIDS WEREN'T SAFE ANYWHERE-
WELL, I'VE GOT REASON TO KNOW HOW IT FEELS TO BE ALWAYS IN DANGER- GUESS THAT'S WHY I PRECIATE HOME AN' SAFETY SO MUCH- GEE, I WONDER WHAT EVER BECAME O' AXEL AND HIS PALS---OH, WELL--THEY'LL NEVER FIND US HERE, SANDY-

MR. ATTORNEY, SOME ENEMY - MAYBE SOME ONE IN GALTMAN'S FIRM - HAD REASON TO WANT TO BE RID OF HIM!
THAT'S YOUR GUESS, GORDON! LISTEN - THE PAPERS AND PUBLIC ARE ALREADY--- --RIDING US HARD, MY OFFICE AND THE POLICE DEPARTMENT, FOR FAILURE TO SOLVE OTHER CASES - I CANNOT RISK ANOTHER DELAY!
MARK MY WORDS - INDICT MY SISTER NOW, AND YOU ARE PLAYING INTO THE HANDS OF THE CLEVER SCHEMING CRIMINAL WHO FRAMED HER! - IF YOU HOLD OFF A WHILE YOU'LL --
3-9
---HAVE HIM GUESSING - UNEASY - WORRIED - LIKELY TO DO SOMETHING TO EXPOSE HIMSELF! -- YOU DON'T WANT TO CONVICT AN INNOCENT PERSON! - AND, IF YOU SOLVE A SENSATIONAL MYSTERY, - THINK OF THE PRESTIGE THAT WILL GIVE YOUR OFFICE!
-AND GET THIS STRAIGHT, MR. ATTORNEY! - I AM GOING TO FIND THE SLAYER OF HARVEY GALTMAN! - IF YOU HAVE PROSECUTED AN INNOCENT PARTY, - WELL - THAT WILL BE JUST TOO BAD FOR YOU!

by passing a resolution of disapproval.

On a standing vote, the house approved the Sumners resolution, 176 to 156, while meeting as committee of the whole. But Democratic leaders quickly won a reversal after resolving the house into a legislative session. The final vote on Sumners' amendment was 209 to 193.

Chief factor in beating down the opposition was elimination from the present bill of the proposed abolition of the general accounting office, fundamental changes in the government's accounting practices, creation of a new department of welfare and a one-man civil service board—the principal points of disagreement last year.

DIES OF STROKE

Fred Edwards, 71, Was Former Ashland City Official.

ASHLAND—Fred Edwards, 71, a former Ashland service-safety director, died early today at his home, 214 Clairmont avenue, following a stroke suffered earlier in the morning. He had been ill with a cold since last Friday.

Born Sept. 4, 1867 in Ashland, Mr. Edwards spent his entire life here. When 17 years of age he went to work for the old Kauffman-Beer Bedspring company here. After serving as traveling representative for eight years, he acquired a part interest in the company in 1902, and in 1904 was made president, an office he held until the company was dissolved.

Mr. Edwards served as service-safety director here for several years prior to 1912. He was a member of the charter commission which set up the city charter in 1913, and for several years was part owner of a theater here. He was a member of the Elks lodge, the United Commercial Travelers, a director of the Ashland Building and Loan company, and a member of the Presbyterian church.

He is survived only by his wife, Elizabeth. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

STOCKS REACH NEW HIGHS FOR YEAR IN SPURT

American Telephone and Rails Push Ahead to New Marks; Business Encourages.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market climbed another notch today in a resumption of the recent slow-moving advance.

Some stocks, including American Telephone, went to top prices for the year or longer under persistent buying.

The highest price recorded this year were paid for Electric Auto Lite, Greyhound, National Biscuit, Public Service of New Jersey, Deere, U. S. Rubber Preferred, Sears Roebuck and National Dairy.

More pronounced was the early spring revival in bonds. Rails, especially, pushed ahead to best levels of the new year upswing. Commodities were uneven.

A continued rise in the London Security markets impressed Wall Street.

Brokers with a leaning to the constructive side of the market stressed: Chances of spring business improvement, especially in building, and modification in Sec regulations governing the security markets.

Business optimists noted Secretary Hopkins predicted, in his latest comments, a substantial increase in the nation's income this year.

RAIL PRESIDENT DIES

CHICAGO—(AP)—Samuel T. Bledsoe, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway since 1933, died today. He was 70.

SEWER SURVEY FINALLY OK'D

posed extensions needed throughout the city as well as trunk sewers.

The state department of health has called for the survey repeatedly in the past few years and twice has turned down extensions in the system because of the lack of a planned program.

Preliminary work on the survey has been under way in the engineering department for the past six months but has been retarded because of the lack of funds to hire the necessary personnel.

Council also approved an appropriation of $360 and authorized Nist to enter into a contract with James R. Collier of Elyria for technical services at the sewage disposal plant for a period of six months.

Collier has been retained by the city as sewage technician since the treatment plant was opened three years ago and has made semi-monthly inspection trips here in accordance with his contract which expired March 1.

Under the new contract approved by the state department of health Collier will be required to make only one inspection a month for a six-months period after which time city officials expect that Supt. James R. Turner will be certified by the state department to handle the plant without any supervision.

CHECK ON INSURANCE

Investigators Claim Widow and Neighbor Friend Knew About $12,500 Policy.

(By Associated Press)

NORWALK—The arrest of a third person in the death of Carl Schlett, 29, which the state charges was a bizarre "murder by automobile," was foreseen today by State Highway Patrolman Ray Abrahams.

Blond Mrs. Coletta Schlett, 28, widow of the riding enthusiast and paper factory employe, and Harold Hastings, 35, a neighbor of the Sandusky couple, are held on first degree murder charges.

"Our investigation is not ended," said Abrams, assigned to the case after Schlett's battered body was found beside a country highway Jan. 27. "Be believe a third person not yet arrested is involved."

In Sandusky, He Claims.

Russell Ramsey, Hasting's counsel, said his client had not left Sandusky on the night Schlett met death 15 miles away.

"On that night I never saw Schlett any place," Ramsey quoted Hastings. "I look at this thing just like I'm reading a newspaper story about somebody else and I'm wondering who it could be."

Ramsey said Hastings, identified by police as an ex-convict, told him that on the night of Jan. 26 he drove to a Sandusky casino, near which his car collided with a truck, damaging the auto's headlight and fender.

"Hastings said he went to the truck driver's home, visited with friends in the neighborhood and returned to the casino," Ramsey added. "Then he went to the police station and reported the truck accident. He reached home a little after 9 p. m."

Mrs. Schlett, who has a 6-year-old daughter, Donna Jean, was quoted by her mother, Mrs.

Ohio Pledges Aid To Carry Out Beer 'Clean Up' Pleas

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A prompt pledge of co-operation was given state officials today in reply to demands that Ohio beer dealers and distributors "clean house."

Several hundred representatives of the malt beverage industry met at a conference yesterday and were told by Liquor Director Jacob R. Taylor that if the industry failed to comply with rules and regulations "we are fully prepared to use every legal means x x x to gain compliance where it is not willingly granted."

William Bruckman of Cincinnati, president of the Buckeye Brewers' association, assured that his group had "full confidence in the liquor department" and would "co-operate fully." Louis Chester of Columbus, secretary of the Wholesale Beer Distributors' association of Ohio, said a code of ethics intended to halt malpractices had been drafted.

The representatives, called to a conference similar to one between Taylor and distillers in January, heard Gov. John W. Bricker pledge his support to Taylor.

TARDY LENIENCY PLEA SUBMITTED

Signed by 150 residents of Plymouth, a plea for leniency for A. F. Marvin, 40, former Plymouth village clerk, had arrived too late today to do any good for Marvin, under a one-to-10-year sentence in the penitentiary for embezzlement.

Atty. L. H. Beam, who represented Marvin at a hearing last Monday when the former clerk was sentenced, revealed he had received the petition from friends of Marvin, who wanted him placed on probation.

Atty. Beam indicated he would turn the petition over to Judge C. H. Huston who sentenced Marvin, but said he "didn't think it would do much good" now.

Pennsy Dem Leaders Indicted on Three Fraud Charges.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(UP)—Twelve Pennsylvania Democratic leaders were indicted by the Dauphin county January grand jury today on charges of political "macing," misuse of highway funds and conspiracy to monopolize the state's bonding and insurance business.

The indictments had been recommended by the September grand jury which three months ago began an investigation into graft and corruption charges against the "Little New Deal" administration of former Gov. George H. Earle.

Three former cabinet officers were among those named in the indictments.

Better Protection!

AN EDITORIAL

WHATEVER doubt may have existed as to the urgent need for prompter fire-fighting and better water facilities for protection of property in the southwest section of Mansfield was dispelled last night when a seemingly minor blaze in Woodland developed into a destructive fire before firemen could reach the scene and bring it under control.

For a number of years there has been insistent demand for an additional fire station in the west part of the city, and on a number of occasions preliminary steps have been taken along this line, but never to the point of accomplishment.

Always the excuse has been that no money was available for this purpose—with the result that the matter was dropped.

Lack of sufficient water pressure, due to inadequate mains, despite the construction of a new water tower in Woodland, was also brought forcibly to notice, and immediate attention should be given this problem.

In a city such as Mansfield there are certain essential services which the municipality is obligated to provide—including fire protection and an adequate water supply to assure this protection.

While it may not be generally realized, Mansfield's tax rate for operation of municipal services is extremely low, as compared with other Ohio cities in similar population group.

The loss incurred in a single fire such as that of last night would go far toward financing construction of an additional fire station in the district where it is badly needed.

Not only should all of the circumstances entering into the delay involved in reaching and handling last night's fire be fully investigated, but no further time should be lost in acting on long delayed plans to erect and equip a new fire station suitable for the needs of this rapidly developing residential section of Mansfield.

Truck and Trailer Crashes Into Confectionery in Wild Run.

CLEVELAND— —(AP)— A 12-ton, 22-foot truck and trailer went "bullish" today, wrecked an East Side confectionery store, then nosed through the wall of an adjoining barber shop.

Damage was estimated by police at $7,000 after the truck crashed through the confectionery store window, broke showcases and overturned tables, pushed a soda fountain through a partition into the barber shop, and then caught fire.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert ruled today that enactment of the bill reorganizing the old unemployment compensation commission did not abolish positions of its employes.

The ruling was made in an opinion to Herschel C. Atkinson, newly-appointed administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Just previous to the ruling, Lucian F. Jenness of Chillicothe, one of 16 branch managers of the commission who were dismissed at the expiration of 90-day probationary periods, asked the Ohio supreme court to issue a writ of mandamus to compel Atkinson to reinstate him.

Jenness' petition denied that his services had been inefficient and

ECONOMY BLOC MAPS FIGHT ON 'REVAMP BILL'

APPROVED 246 TO 153

Representatives Stay With Party Lines in Passing Roosevelt Legislation.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Senate Republicans and economy-minded Democrats prepared today for an assault on the house-approved reorganization bill which would give the president limited authority to reshuffle permanent and emergency federal agencies.

After stifling a revolt that threatened to curtail materially the chief executive's power, the house passed the controversial measure last night by a vote of 246 to 153.

Gets 8 G. O. P. Votes

The vote was almost strictly along party lines, 234 Democrats, eight Republicans, one American Laborite, one Farmer Laborite and two Progressives voting for it. Against it were 148 Republicans and five Democrats.

Administration leaders predicted that a similar bill would be approved by the senate, and that there would be no repetition of last year's battle when 29 days were consumed in debate on a measure which Republicans and some Democrats charged would have given the president dictatorial powers in the reorganization of the executive department.

Chairman James F. Byrnes, D., S. C., of the senate reorganization committee, said last night that the issue had been "thoroughly covered," and that there was "no disposition" on his part to hold hearings on the house bill.

Effective in 60 Days.

Byrnes, who has introduced a companion bill in the senate, planned to sponsor the house proposal, which permits the president's reorganization suggestions to become effective automatically within 60 days after their submission to congress unless both senate and house reject them.

Practically the entire Republican membership and a substantial bloc of anti-New Deal Democrats, however, began conferences on strategy to win approval of a bill proposed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.), which would nullify reorganization proposals unless the two congresisonal branches approved them within 20 days.

House Democrats narrowly averted an embarrassing defeat on the reorganization measure on an amendment offered by Rep. Hatton W. Sumners, (D-Tex.), that would have given either the house or senate power to block any proposed reorganization plan

Rumor Says Hitler Dispatches Message to New Pontiff.

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Authoritative Germans reported today that Pope Pius XII had discussed the church situation in Germany when he received the four German cardinals on Monday.

They said it was impossible to disclose the nature of the discussion "because of the great delicacy of the situation."

German quarters, however, expressed the hope that relations between the vatican and Germany might be improved.

Officials at the German ambassy asserted nothing was known there of a message Chancellor Hitler was reported to have sent the pontiff.

Low Woodland Supply Shown In $40,000 Fire

Seeburger, Answering Charges of 'Undue Delay,' Says Hydrants Could Handle Only 2 Hose Lines; Flames Rout 5 In Imhoff Family, 2 Servants.

BULLETIN

Firemen were called to answer two alarms, almost simultaneously at 1 p. m. today. Headquarters said one was on Coul street and the other on Oak street.

A $40,000 fire that last night levelled the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Imhoff, 580 Woodhill road, today had disclosed the inadequacy of the water supply in the Woodland district.

Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger, called before Mayor Claude M. Hunter and Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist to explain what had been charged as an "undue delay" by the fire department in answering the alarm, termed the water supply "totally insufficient."

Seeburger said at the meeting this morning that although four pumpers were on the scene last night, only two hose lines could be connected to a hydrant because of the small-sized water main on the street.

The chief reported that the first two companies on the scene had connected pumpers to the hydrant at Woodhill and Shepard roads, less than 500 feet from the house, while other apparatus stood idle while hose connections were made directly to the hydrant at Woodhill and Overlook.

Seeburger said firemen could not attach another pump to the line on Woodhill road because there was only a four-inch main on the street and that the two hose lines already connected taxed the supply to capacity.

His charges that the pressure in Woodland district were wholly inadequate were met by a firm denial by City Engineer C. W. Stadler who said that the new 150,000 gallon elevated tank in Woodland furnished pressures equal to that in any part of the city.

Residents Charge Delay.

Meanwhile irate residents in the Woodland area today not only complained because of the lack of an adequate water supply in that area but also charged the fire department with failure to give prompt service.

Several persons in the vicinity of the Imhoff home said that it was "at least" a half an hour after the alarm was turned in that water was applied to the blaze.

Seeburger told the mayor and service director that the ticker tape which records the alarms received from fire alarm boxes

DROP BOMBS ON 'RED' BOLTERS

Foes of 'Peace With Honor' Plan Attacked as Revolt Flares Anew.

(By United Press)

MADRID—Airplanes and infantry of the defense council opened an attack in force today on Communist troops who had rebelled against a "peace with honor" program intended to bring the civil war to an end.

Airplanes bombed Communist troop concentrations in the suburbs and infantry shock troops attacked isolated groups holding out in the city proper.

It was indicated that the revolting troops had defied orders of their leaders to surrender and that no alternative had been left to the defense council but to attack.

Gen. Jose Miaja and his associates on the defense council had believed yesterday that they had crushed the revolt. They had sent an ultimatum to the leaders demanding surrender. As for the main body of the Communist troops in the suburbs, the defense council had said that its own men would not fire on the Communists unless they were attacked.

PLEADS TODAY

Shiloh Farmer Faces Huston on Assault Charge.

Frank Reddick, 50, R. D. 2, Shiloh, was to be brought before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston this afternoon on an assault and battery charge growing out of an alleged attack on Joseph Zmejack, 50, of near Shiloh, Tuesday night. Reddick is in the county jail.

Zmejack, who suffered head and face injuries and body bruises, is in the Willard Municipal hospital. His condition, however, is not believed serious.

Prosecutor G. W. Marriott said the altercation occurred at Zmejack's farm east of Shiloh and apparently was the result of an attempt of Zmejack to force Reddick to move from a farm owned by Zmejask.

Deputy Sheriffs J. R. Hetler and G. C. Humphrey arrested Reddick Tuesday night and brought him to the county jail.

PROBE LASHING

Pennsy Acts as Reform School Boy Displays Welts.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The western Pennsylvania section of the committee on penal affairs asked Gov. Arthur H. James today to investigate the lashing 17-year-old Steve Kasper said he received at the Boys' Industrial school at Oakdale, near here.

The boy appeared at the Beaver county court house and exhibited welts and blood-stained bruises he said an overseer inflicted with a leather strap because he overheard the boy tell another inmate "Let's get the hell out of here."

War Referendum Proponents Get Promise of Vote

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Advocates of a national war referendum, which the administration opposes, won a promise today of a showdown senate vote at this session.

Senators La Follette (Prog., Wis.) and Clark (D., Mo.), two of the 12 sponsors of the proposed constitutional amendment, received assurances from a judiciary subcommittee that hearings would be held soon.

This disclosure coincided with information from members of the house military committee that their group had approved a plan for accepting strategic war minerals in part payment of European war debts or in exchange for surplus agricultural products.

The scheme was inserted in a bill authorizing the war department to spend $100,000,000 over a four-year period for reserves of manganese, tin, chrome ore and other minerals in which the country is deficient.

The war referendum proposal would require a popular vote before the United States could go to war, except in case of foreign attacks on any nation in the western hemisphere.

A similar plan was killed in the house last year after the president and Secretary Hull had opposed it.

THEATERS

THIS AND THAT: You can expect to hear of an Alice Faye-Tony Martin rift any time now because his hit at the Paramount theater in New York has extended his personal appearance tour and he probably will be away from Hollywood and his wife for six months or so, and no Hollywood marriage could survive that. . . . Funny but true: Gene Markey's new wife, Hedy Lamarr, looks exactly like his last wife, Joan Bennett, when the latter wears a brunet wig. . . . Twentieth-Century-Fox will experiment in Jane Wither's next film. She will wear high heels, a long dress and get her first screen kiss in "Police School." . . . Jeanette MacDonald is going out on a concert tour. Her accompanist will be Giuseppe Banboschek, who was with the Metropolitan Opera staff for 17 years. . . .

"Arizona Legion."

In the dead of night a handful of men take the oath that lawlessness must perish in the southwest, and at that meeting the Arizona rangers, secret agents of the Old West, are born. At their head rides a man whose identity is unknown to anyone, even to the girl he loves. Through this action moves George O'Brien, a favorite Western player, and Laraine Johnson. "Arizona Legion" is one of the Madison attractions for the last half of the week. The other one is "Blondie Meets The Boss," the second of the popular Blondie adventures.

Cagney Film Booked.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" with Mickey Rooney will continue through Friday at the Ohio theater and on Saturday the change of program will bring in "The Oklahoma Kid" with James Cagney and Rosemary Lane. Cagney's career has shifted into high again since he made up his differences with Warner Brothers. It will be the first picture in which this dynamic star has played a "wild West" role.

Secret Service.

"Secret Service of the Air" which comes to the Majestic tomorrow is the first of a thrilling cavalcade of adventures in secret service work, all of them revolving around the air service. Ronald Reagan, a newcomer in pictures, who made an outstanding hit in "Brother Rat," will play the leading character. John Litel, Ila Rhodes and others will be seen in the series. Another of the Dorothy Page pictures, "Ride 'Em, Cowgirl," rounds out the bill.

Gable-Lombard Wedding Near

Conclusion of divorce action by Mrs. Clark Gable against the motion picture star forecasts the early marriage of Gable and Carole Lombard, movie favorite, according to Hollywood film colony observers.

"Vacation From Love."

Dennis O'Keefe and Florence Rice, two young players who have made rapid strides toward box office importance in the past six months, are teamed in "Vacation From Love," a romantic comedy which opens at the Ritz Friday for two days. The story revolves around a young married couple who try—not too successfully—to steer clear of the matrimonial shoals. Bob Baker is the star of "Prairie Justice," a musical Western.

Former School Marm.

Lovely Madeliene Carroll who taught school and saved $100 with which to start her film career, is chained to Robert Donat in "39 Steps," one of their earlier British-Gaumont pictures which is being shown at the Park. The story is filled with action, drama and romance, with a man-hunt which sweeps through London, over the Scottish moors and into a London vaudeville house. In addition to this film the theater is showing "Having a Wonderful Time" with Ginger Rogers and young Doug Fairbanks.

One Of Nature's Greatest Aids In Fighting Colds

In these difficult days when colds are numerous and severe, it's well to give yourself the benefit of every sensible precaution. So remember .. one of nature's greatest aids in fighting colds, is rest.

However, when a cold warns you of its presence by giving you a sniffly, stuffy, clogged up nose, rest and relaxation are already made more difficult by partially closed breathing passages. So head off the cold's tendency to rob you of the rest you need. Help your cold-troubled nose with Mentholatum.

Mentholatum gives off its soothing, cooling vapors for hours after applying. It stays put, too. And its action helps break up choking mucus, relieves irritation, and opens clogged breathing passages. With every breath you draw, Mentholatum brings you the kind of comfort that helps you rest better. Mentholatum has been used by millions for over forty years. Be sure to ask your druggist for it today. In tubes or jars—30¢.

Fifty Mummies 3,000 Years Old Found In Italy

ANZIO, Italy—(U.P.)—An ancient Etruscan necropolis believed to have been constructed in the year 1,000 B. C. has been discovered by accident.

While digging for peat, a group of laborers was astonished to find that their picks hit stone. Continuing digging, they discovered what seemed to be stone roof covered by layers of dirt.

Evidently taking a scientific interest in their find, the workmen dug until they discovered a necropolis formed by three tombs.

The ministry of education then was advised and examination of the tombs was made. It was found that the tombs were from a pre-Roman period.

The decorations on the walls, consisting of bronze mirrors, glass rings, small necklaces, bronze statues and small gold objects, and the complete lack of ironware, were accepted as proof that the necropolis is Etruscan.

The coffins found in the tombs contain 50 embalmed bodies in perfect state of preservation.

CROWS HARASS COUNTY

MARYSVILLE, Cal. — (U.P.) — Agricultural Commissioner Harold A. Crane is hard on the trail of the nesting place of between 300 and 500 crows who threaten to ruin the entire almond crop of this district. They make daily raids on the almonds.

When Poisons Slow KIDNEYS and Irritate Bladder

Go to your druggist today and get this safe, harmless diuretic and stimulant—ask for Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and start at once to flush out waste matter—irritating acids and poisons thru kidneys.

That's a quick and effective way to help bring about more healthy kidney activity and relieve that bladder irritation with its scanty passage with smarting and murning as well as restless nights.

Remember the kidneys often need flushing as well as the bowels, and some symptoms of kidney weakness may be: getting up often during the night — puffy eyes — backache — shifting pains.

Don't be an EASY MARK and accept a substitute—Ask for Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules — right from Haarlem in Holland. GET GOLD MEDAL — the original — the genuine. Look for the Gold Medal on the box—35 cents.

"Smilin' thru" with Father John's Medicine

For children's colds this family medicine has been used for 80 years.

It is not "just another cold remedy." It helps break up colds, and also builds up the body.

Rich in vitamins, it increases resistance to colds and other infections.

Keep Father John's Medicine on hand. Don't wait—be prepared—Get it today.

BLAZE REVEALS LACK OF WATER

Weak Woodland Supply Bared as $40,000 Fire Levels Imhoff Home.

showed that the call was received at 12:01 a. m.

He admitted however that an earlier call had been received by telephone. The fire department records however showed that the call was received at the time the alarm registered on the tape.

The fire, which ravaged the entire house, was discovered and reported almost simultaneously by Louis A. Ott, jeweler, and Virginia Glessner, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Glessner, 37 Highland avenue.

Awakens Servants.

Ott, on his way to his home at 391 West Third street, noticed the blaze as he drove along Woodhill road toward his home. He roused Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bruce, colored servants, sleeping on the third floor of the 10-room house. They in turn woke Mr. and Mrs. Imhoff and sent in an alarm.

Miss Glessner, driving toward her home with Dudley Thomas, 21, also noticed the blaze. She went to the home of R. L. Henry, next door to the Imhoff home, and summoned the fire department.

The blaze, fanned by a stiff west wind quickly spread from the garage where it was believed to have started and spread through the upper portion of the $25,000 brick and stucco house.

It was brought under control after a two-hour battle by three companies of firemen.

Both Imhoff's automobiles which were in the garage were destroyed as the fire swept through the garage and entire second story of the residence.

Go To Neighbor's Home.

Imhoff and his wife took their two daughters, Jane, 13, and Rhea, 8, and a son, Richard, 11, to the home of Mrs. Charles Schroer, directly across the street, where they stayed last night. He said the contents of his home was covered by insurance and estimated the loss at $15,000.

The house, owned by Burton Preston, jr., 550 Woodland road, was valued at $25,000 by Preston. It had only recently been remodeled.

Imhoff said he first learned of fire when Bruce awoke him by pounding on the bedroom door and shouting that there was a blaze downstairs. He said he arose and took his watch which was on the dresser and put it in his pocket. He said it was then 11.45. While Mrs. Imhoff aroused the three children, he went down the back stairway to the garage.

Started In Garage.

"When Wallace told me that there was a fire, I started downstairs and saw that it was confined to the garage adjacent to the north side of the house," Imhoff related

"I couldn't see any fire but only a reflection and could smell the smoke."

He said that the first company of fire apparatus arrived as he started across the street with the children and his wife.

"As I stood by the window, there was still no blaze in the house and it was several minutes before the flames finally shot up through the roof of the garage," Imhoff added.

Tells of Difficulty.

"I saw the firemen come up to the house and waited for them to connect their hose lines. It was exactly 12:20 by my watch when the first water was turned on."

Imhoff said that two trucks were on the scene but that it appeared firemen were having difficulty attaching the hose.

He said he returned from Columbus early in the evening and that the family had retired about 9:30 p. m.

Attorney Harold Burns who lives at the Schroer home said that it was approximately 12:15 when he first noticed the blaze in the Imhoff home.

"I heard a horn blowing outside and looked out the window to see a red glare in the garage. There ware no flames on the outside at that time," he said.

Burns related that he had tried to call the fire department on the telephone from his room but could not get central. He then went downstairs and made another attempt on Mrs. Schroer's phone and was again unsuccessful.

"By the time I had got back upstairs and tried again on my own telephone the fire apparatus had arrived," Burns added.

collector, probably will be taken to the penitentiary Monday, county authorities said today.

The three former public employes were sentenced to the pen Monday after they pleaded guilty to indictments charging embezzling of public funds.

A stay of execution granted by Judge Huston after he sentenced them will expire at 9 a. m. Monday and it is expected that Sheriff E. P. Long will take the trip to Columbus the same day.

At the expiration of the bonds under which the men gained the week's stay, they will be imprisoned in the county jail until they start to Columbus.

It was understood that if the men begin their terms before next Wednesday, the 15th of the month, the entire month of March will be credited to their sentences.

Judge Huston granted the week's stay of execution at the request of counsel for the three defendants to permit them to care for business matters before they are taken to the pen.

DEATH CLAIMS ADOLPH WEBER

Shelby Restaurant Owner Was Brother of Mansfield Brewer; Services Saturday.

SHELBY — Adolph Weber, 73, brother of Julius Weber, Mansfield brewer, died Wednesday night at Shelby Memorial hospital following an illness of the past year.

Born in Mansfield Nov. 2, 1865, Mr. Weber resided in Shelby 34 years. He came to Shelby from Cincinnati in 1905 and owned the Weber restaurant in this city.

Surviving are his wife, Rose; seven children, Henry, Robert, Mrs. Jack Imhoff and Miss Margaret Weber, of Shelby; Mrs. J. V. Eberly of Chicago, Ill., Adolph and Julius of Mansfield; three sisters, Mrs. William Renner, Miss Ida Weber, and Mrs. Philamina Reinewald, of Mansfield; a brother, Julius, of Mansfield, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Dick and Dye funeral home at 2 p. m. Saturday with Rev. M. P. Paetznick of the First Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery.

SHELBY DEBATE TEAMS ACTIVE

SHELBY—Members of the high school speech department will participate in three different contests this week, Speech Supervisor C. M. Schindler said today. Mr. Schindler will accompany the students on the trips.

The Shelby speech league will present the one-act play, "Sky Fodder," at the district one-act play contest at Ashland tonight.

On Saturday members of the speech department will be entered in a declamation contest at Port Clinton and a debate contest at Youngstown East high school, Schindler said.

Prosecutor Rex Bracy, who said Mrs. Schlett "has often been seen in Hastings' car," asserted Schlett's insurance policies, which would provide payment of $12,500 in case of accidental death, had been discussed by the couple in Hastings' presence.

Ramsey said he would attempt to learn "where Schlett really went" the stormy night he was killed. Investigators said he left home for a Sandusky riding stable he frequented.

The prosecutor said Mrs. Schlett's attorney, James Murray, had sought to free her on bail.

"Under no condition will I have anything to do with permitting either defendant to go free on bond, nor will I reduce the charge," Bracy said.

Abrams, who visited Toledo and Detroit during his investigation, said the trips would "have an important bearing on the case," but he refused to comment further.

The Erie and Huron county commissioners have offered jointly a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for Schlett's death.

Hastings, who was held 24 hours for questioning after the discovery of Schlett's body and then released, was described by Bracy as "the kind of a man you would imagine a radio lover to be." The prosecutor said Hastings was married in 1930 and divorced in 1937 for gross neglect.

Convicted of breaking into a motor car, Hastings served a short sentence in 1925 for burglary and larceny, Bracy said.

THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1939.

Reverting to the overworked Christmastime radio joke, Clark Gable is probably being asked about his favorite Carol.

Like in other organizations, some members of the human race don't pay their dues.

The Republican national committee claims 21 states as "certainties" in 1940—these doubtless being Maine and Vermont, plus 19 tattered prodigals.

Spelling, the Forgotten Subject.

ANNOUNCEMENT that Baku Grotto is arranging to hold a "spelling and quiz bee" each Friday evening is reminded of the increasing interest being attained by such features on radio programs.

The example being set by this fraternal group might well be followed by other local clubs and organizations of different kinds, as it appears that some means must be provided, other than modern schools, if children and adults are to learn how to spell even the simple words ordinarily required for letter-writing or in store and office positions.

Except for the excuse of overcrowded curriculums, no explanation is given for neglect of spelling in public schools, with consequent turning out of graduates who are unable to correctly spell the words used in writing a letter of application for a job, as was recently referred to by a member of the board of education.

Just how it is regarded as possible to build a workable education without the foundation essentials of reading, writing and spelling is difficult to understand.

American Summer Travel.

NINE MILLION American families—four persons to a family—are going to be on the move this year, according to travel observers. A large part of this migration will be in the direction of one or both of the world fairs which are attempting to show one way out of the depression. But not all. There will be much motoring here and there into national parks and vacation spots including every sort of scenery and climate, from mountains to seashore and river valley.

"Cash registers all over the country," says an automobile sales manager, "will soon ring out the news that the greatest movement of population the world has ever seen is under way. And the keys on the register marked new cars, good used cars, gasoline, tires and authorized service will ring up the majority of dollars."

The keys marked lodging and food and soft drinks and swimming suits and camping equipment and ice cream will keep up a pretty good clatter, too. Even the folks who stay at home will keep a few cash registers busy recording sales of porch and garden furniture.

Not all are employed, and those who are working are not all prosperous, but neither are they refugees, nor pawns in a dictator's game.

No More Private Police.

MAYOR LA GUARDIA of New York has tackled a difficult problem first brought to general attention by the Bund meeting there on Washington's birthday. He has ordered that hereafter the owners and operators of public halls must provide their own ushers. The groups leasing halls for meetings will under no circumstances be permitted to use their own guards or other persons "for the ostensible purpose of preserving order." All special policemen employed must be licensed by the police commissioner and have their uniforms approved by him.

Recognized fraternal, veteran and religious organizations are temporarily exempt from the regulation. Otherwise, it shows no discrimination. Their can be neither storm troopers nor Red armies. If ushers and special policemen are unable to maintain order, the regular police force will handle the situation. Finally, if any group feels itself injured by these restrictions, it can appeal to the courts. Such an appeal might be a very good thing, bringing to public attention some matters that need airing.

These rules are well within the power of city authorities. They do not interfere with the rights of public assembly, free speech or free thought. In fact they serve to enforce and safeguard those rights.

Application Withdrawn.

DECISION of the Shelby post of the American Legion to withdraw its application for a liquor license is in accord with the good judgment that could be expected of that organization, in acceding to expressed wishes of residents of the section in which the Legion home is located.

The matter of fraternal organizations engaging in the liquor business, in catering to their own membership, has long been a controversial subject, with members usually divided as to advisability of permitting either liquor selling or gambling in their club rooms.

The program of the American Legion is so closely associated with boys' work and encouragement of patriotism and good citizenship that decision of the Shelby post to forego a liquor license appears to broaden its field for beneficial work among young people in that community.

Changes In the Dust Bowl.

A FEW years ago the problem of the dust bowl was very serious. Most of the soil seemed to be blowing away. Continued drouth made crops impossible. Cattle perished for lack of water or had to be moved to other areas. Families moved away in search of better conditions. The future of the land and the people looked hopeless.

Today the picture is greatly changed for the better, altered by two things. Rains came again in much of the dust bowl. Also, many plants and trees have been set out and a surprisingly large number of them have taken root and made good growth.

There will be other drouths, but there is now ground for hope that before they come again there will be enough roots in the earth and foliage overhead to hold much of the ground moisture and anchor the soil.

Then there is also the Pennsylvania farmer, who put a radio on his plow so as to keep up with Secretary Wallace's rulings.

A Missouri farmer has discovered that tractors don't breed—nor do they add to fertility of the soil.

Keeping Step

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—If that promised economy drive in congress which Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee, is predicting matures, it very conceivably might start the busines revival that President Roosevelt and Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins have been trying to start.

The trouble about the olive branches that Roosevelt and Hopkins have been brandishing is that apparently they have not been 100 per cent convincing to the investing public. Let us consider merely the electric industry and see how the thing works out.

The electric industry, it so happens, is the one on which both the president and Hopkins are counting most. It was to get the wheels turning in this particular line that the surprise settlements were made by T. V. A. with first Chattanooga and then Memphis. The object was to start private utility spending—which piled up four billion dollars of needed investment that Chairman W. O. Douglas, of S. E. C., has been harping on in conversations with the president and Hopkins.

BUT look what was going on even while the olive branches were being waved, even while several million dollars more was agreed upon than need have been paid the Commonwealth and Southern and the Electric Bond and Share if the original Lilienthal-Wilhoite-Rankin ideas had been carried out.

First, every ounce of administration pressure possible was exerted to force the appropriation of money by congress not only to complete the Gilbertsville dam, already started, but the Watts Bar dam as well. Second, the report of Chief Engineer Panter, of the special congressional committee which has been investigating T. V. A., was suppressed during these maneuvers to get the full amount of T. V. A. appropriations desired. No attention was paid to this last by the daily newspapers, which long since lost interest in an investigation so obviously intended to be nothing but a whitewash. But surely no one directing this strategem thought that the private utilities would not know about it—especially when the active Republican members of the committee knew that the report had been submitted, that it was in the hands of Vic Donahey, chairman of the committee, and that a copy of it was in the hands of Francis Biddle, counsel in chief on the whitewashing job, who had been rewarded by the White House with a federal judgeship!

THE really perplexing part of all this is that critics of T. V. A., knowing the opinion of Engineer Tom Panter given the committee publicly by Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman of T. V. A., in protest against Panter's appointment, do not think for a moment that the Painter report will be anything but favorable to T. V. A. They suspect that there may be some little point in the report, however, on which administration leaders figured T. V. A. critics might be able to make capital. And when it is considered that the change of half a dozen votes in the house would have stopped the building of Watts Bar dam the point might really have been very important.

Two things, if they could be definitely promised with assurance that the promises would be kept, would beyond the slightest doubt cause a construction spree by the electric industry, which might easily produce the wave of prosperity for which Roosevelt and Hopkins hope. One would be that the government would construct no more hydroelectric projects. The other would be that the government would make no more free grants and cheap interest loans for construction of local electric systems. In short, a promise of no more subsidized government competition.

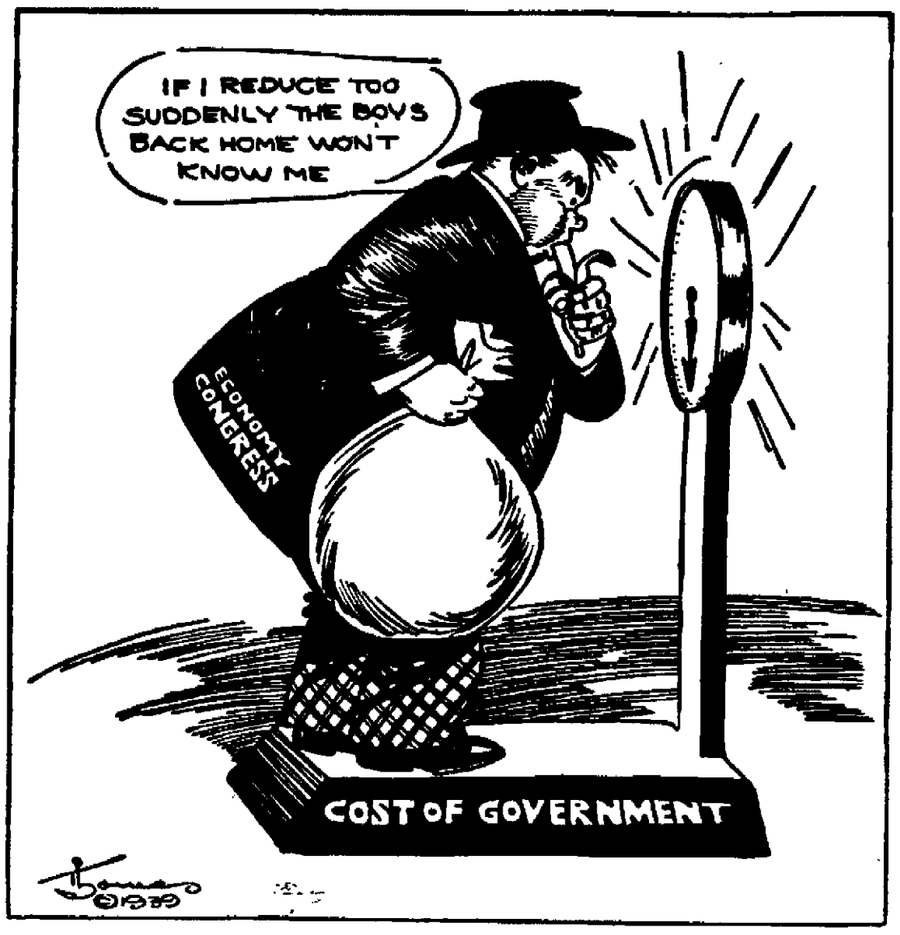
THE DIETER



The Human Side of the News

—By EDWIN C. HILL

CHICHESTER, N. Y., a town of generations of woodworkers, on the auction block a few weeks ago, gets a new lease on life. There's a deal on which will reopen the furniture factory. When the hungry citizens heard the good news, the first thing they said was, "Now we can open up the bowling alley." That's interesting, because the spot that Rip Van Winkle picked out for his twenty-year nap is only around the corner from Chichester and this mountain country. No wonder they take to bowling.

When Rip returned, his wife's new husband said, "Give him a cold potato and send him away." If he had slept 150 instead of 20 years, he might have found folks more friendly, but he would be lucky to get a cold potato after more than a century of industrial progress. He probably would have gone to sleep again, hoping to wake up in a day when a skilled craftsman might earn a living.

COMPANY towns of mining, lumber, agriculture, have employed migratory and seasonal labor of widely varied national derivations, but lightly rooted in American soil and tradition. Here at Chichester, is a carry-over into the power age of Walt Whitman's stalwart Americans who broke the soil, owned their tools, applied their varied skills, paid their debts, and took no back talk from anybody. Perhaps they stayed too long. Even with the wheels turning again, the town is still up for sale—and that means the home of every man in it, the church and general store, the boss' mansion, the factory, the school, social and recreation halls and their beloved bowling alley. If, as you read this, you are sitting on a chair of exceptionally fine craftsmanship, it is possible that it was made by the Chichester workers. For four or five generations they have been making furniture like that, for well-to-do people all over the world.

THE increase in farm and home tenancy and share-cropping has been a disquieting trend of latter-day America. But the company-town is now passing. There are fewer of them in each decade. Independence and home ownership have proven a better stimulus to productivity and good citizenship. An observing friend of this writer, who recently toured the South, tells me that the textile industry, long the stronghold of this form of industrial community, is beginning to encourage town ownership and organization entirely independent of the company. He quoted one North Carolina manufacturer substantially as follows:

"Industrial paternalism doesn't work out any better than governmental paternalism. We are coming to believe that both are unmitigated evils. Company towns grew up in an effort to cut down labor turnover and unrest and to give us social controls which we believed were necessary for stability in the industry and good for the workers.

"Some company towns have been well and honestly managed, providing many educational recreational services which the workers might not have enjoyed otherwise. Others have been bad in every way, with wretched housing and exorbitant prices at the company store. In my opinion it hasn't worked out in either case—good or bad. There is absolutely no substitute for free home ownership, free business and the hope of some gain and security all round. I predict that in a few years the company town will be a thing of the past in the textile regions."

PEOPLE in the deep hillbilly regions of the mountains never have taken kindly to company towns and never liked to see their sons and daughters move into them. Nor do they take kindly to the federal housing and reclamation projects. A patch of shallow soil and a tumbledown cabin, distressing as both may seem in the light of decent living standards, are prized as a better way of life, because they are their own—as poor as it may be, it is their own.

No one with any concern for human dignity and welfare will defend such conditions, yet this stubborn survival of the pioneer spirit is something which government and industry might ponder as the great national housing drive gathers momentum.

Health Advice

Candy Has Place In Diet.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE average of opinion about candy as a food would probably be based on the old principle that whatever is pleasant is bad for you. The Puritan is still in our midst and still is likely to say, whenever he sees anybody enjoying himself, something such as, "I would't eat any more of that candy if I were you; it isn't good for you."

But candy as a food has a great many individual virtues, and has a distinct place in dietary needs. The principal ingredient of candy is glucose (which comes from the Greek word glukus, meaning sweet). Most candy contains other materials with distinct food value, but sugar in its several forms is so outstanding a part of it that appraisal of the dietary values of the products amounts, for all practical purposes, to appraisal of the sugar that makes up its bulk.

Admitting that candy is not a balanced diet, what, we may ask, is the value of glucose? Foods have three main functions—to furnish energy, to build tissue and to regulate the body processes. The mineral elements and the vitamins are the body regulators; the proteins are the body builders, and, par excellence, glucose is the energy food of the body.

People Differ.

People differ considerably in their need of glucose and in their utilization of it. Of course, we know that a supply of energy fuel in excess of normal energy demands will be transformed into fat and deposited as such in the tissues, but, on the contrary, a great many people do not have an easily available supply of glucose to meet their regular daily needs; this results in a condition of chronic fatigue.

Two distinguished Yale physiologists, Dr. Howard Haggard and Dr. Leon A. Greenburg, have published observations on industrial and occupational fatigue. On the basis of their tests it appears that the efficiency of those engaged in factory occupation is improved by more frequent feeding than is the habit of the bulk of the American people. When two extra small meals, one in mid-morning and one in mid-afternoon, were added to the regular diet, the occupational efficiency of those on whom these experiments were made was enhanced. Occupational fatigue is, to a considerable extent, due to depletion of energy supply, and this is most easily made up by the use of glucose.

Subject of Tests.

Chronic fatigue in school children has also been the subject of experiments by members of the Department of Physiology at the University of Chicago. Their recommendations are that symptoms of fatigue in children may be alleviated by the eating of candy or glucose before and during play or exercise. Candy given at the time of the greatest energy output, such as after-school hours, performs a very definite function in the alleviation of the effects of constant energy depletion.

Timely Editorial

Bread Steps Out.

Food is a subject of such universal interest that it always commands a hearing. It isn't so long since we were first introduced to vitamins and learned to pronounce the name trippingly on the tongue; and we accepted the statement that their alphabetical presence in our food in proper proportions was esesntial to our correct sustenance. Scientists are constantly on the alert to incorporate the most necessary vitamins in foods of greatest consumption. If they can, at the same time, help along a home industry, so much the better.

So down in Florida they are now making grapefruit bread. It is said to have received a particularly warm reception in Tampa, where it is being featured on hotel and restaurant menus. Citrus fruits contain vitamins A, B, C, and G, so grapefruit juice not only adds these elements to our daily bread, it also gives it a more piquant taste. Another point in its favor, that should be of special interest to Florida consumers, is that bread with this added ingredient is extremely resistant to mold.—Newark Advocate.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Life Is So Short.

Why do we let small irritants
Or large ones mar a day?
Why do we fret at money's loss
Or weep when people say

In bitterness, some slighting word?
Why bitterness at all?
So futile is our fretting here
When we this truth recall.

The brevity of life. Why let
World's worry fret us, go
Our few short years oblivious
Of beauty we should know?

Listen, World!

Faith Isn't a Flop.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU'RE discouraged—disgusted. Your whole life seems ravelling out into a senseless scramble. No matter how hard you work, how carefully you plan, everything goes wrong.

Yet all the while there lies ready to your hand the greatest Wonder Worker on earth—the one, invincible Force which will clear your way to success if rightly used. Meaning what? Meaning FAITH.

"Oh, yeah!" you sneer. "I've heard that line before . . . all that hooey about 'Faith moving mountains'—but it's the bunk. I've had Faith . . . I've believed until I was blue in the face . . . but it never did anything for me! Maybe it's okay for fanatics who like that kinda tripe but for folks like me who want practical results FAITH'S A FLOP!"

You're wrong. Faith isn't a flop. It's the most tremendous instrument ever devised for man's use. We understand little about it as yet . . . but this we do know—FAITH IS THE BASIS OF ALL HUMAN ACCOMPLISHMENT. TRIVIAL OR GREAT. WITHOUT FAITH, NOTHING CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED. WITH FAITH, MAN HAS NOT YET SEEN THE LIMIT OF HIS POWER!

Not believe in Faith? Don't be an idiot! You can't help but believe in Faith. Every mental, moral or material accomplishment is tangible proof of the power and existence of Faith . . . BEFORE ANY MAN CAN DO ANYTHING HE MUST FIRST BELIEVE THAT HE CAN DO IT. THE FINISHED ACHIEVEMENT IS ONLY THAT "FAITH MADE MANIFEST."

Then why hasn't Faith helped you? Primarily because you have a fantastic misconception of its nature and manner of functioning. You think of Faith as a sort of emotional mumbo-jumbo . . . something apart from normal experience, like a voodoo charm, guaranteed to cure warts, prevent lumbago, double your pay check and protect you from blonds. You approach Faith like a superstitious savage mumbling a Medicine Man's chant—

"Inky-pink-Boom-Bam—BUFF!

"C'mon Faith and DO YOUR STUFF!"

Whereupon, presto! the miracle will be accomplished. Only it isn't . . . and no wonder.

Faith isn't an emotional condition which a man acquires as he acquires D. T.'s. FAITH IS A FORCE WHICH A MAN INVOKES . . . A FORCE SO MIGHTY THAT IT CONTROLS THE MENTAL, MATERIAL AND SPIRITUAL WORLDS, IF PROPERLY USED. It is as definite a force as gravity and follows as definite laws with as definite effects. But because you're still too ignorant to understand those laws . . . and because the effects are not immediate, you scoff at the whole thing.

BUT THERE IS NO PROMISE THAT FAITH WILL ACT INSTANTANEOUSLY! Earth takes five or fifty million years to make a mountain; yet you do not, therefore, deny the cosmic forces. It took many men many years to complete the Panama Canal, from the first plan by Antonio Galvao in 1550 to its official opening in 1920, yet no one can doubt that Faith was on the job all the time.

FAITH MUST TAKE ITS TIME AS EVERY OTHER FORCE TAKES ITS TIME. Faith CAN and DOES move mountains . . . mountains of actual earth to make a great canal . . . mountains of laziness, dishonesty, cruelty, cowardice and greed, to make a great Man . . . yet in each case the job is accomplished—if the Faith holds out.

HAVE FAITH! BUT BACK YOUR FAITH WITH COURAGE AND COMMON SENSE. IF YOU'D SPEND HALF AS MUCH TIME BELIEVING THAT SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN AS YOU SPEND WHINING BECAUSE IT DOESN'T . . . YOU'D BE UP TO YOUR EARS IN MIRACLES.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If there were such a thing as a caste system among cities in this country New York would have to dine at the second table. We stand for some things that are pretty crude at times. The newest off-shoot of the death pool is an example.

The original death pool, which still flourishes day and night, works like this: You select a list of famous men who are all well along in years. These names are tossed into a hat and sold. You pay your money and you take your pick. Then everybody sits around and waits for someone on the select list to die. If your "man" goes first, you win.

The late Colonel Jacob Ruppert adorned many such lists. Pope Pius himself was another. A taxi driver told me his son-in-law twice held the name of the late John D. Rockefeller and gave it up in disgust "when a dark horse beat him out." That's the way the cabby phrased it.

GAMBLING is at high tide in New York, despite crusades and anti-vice campaigns. Many people hold that it is no crime to wager a friendly dollar, or even 5,000 friendly dollars, on a single roll of dice. I don't think it is a crime. But it is illegal. And where one finds so many unsavory elements as are in New York, games of chance are always identified with the double-deal and the double cross.

There are more side games, policy rackets, and lotteries, plus back-alley and penthouse crap games today than Arnold Rothstein ever thought about, and Rothstein was King of the Gamblers until somebody shot him in the back early one morning in a big New York hotel. Rothstein died laughing at the cops who begged him to name his assailant, and that shooting is still in the ledger of "Unfinished Business" in police court. Officially nobody knows who shot Rothstein, but there are people who know.

Rumors always spring up after any vague killing, and one of those clinging to the Rothstein case is that it would be impossible to name the actual killer because too many people in high places would be involved. Such exposure would undermine public confidence and over-balance any good that would come from bringing one man to justice.

I SORT of felt sorry for Max Schmeling when he was here. The big fellow was around town nearly three weeks before he got back on a ship and went home. I think I would feel sorry for a dog if it received the shabby treatment from an individual or an organization that Schmeling got from boxing after the first Louis fight. Boxing in New York, of course, has always been larded with the double-cross, so I suppose only the most naive person would be surprised at anything that happens in big time pugilism.

But it does make you wonder what the end might be when the boss of boxing, quite openly and quite legally, too, by the way, can say: "I don't care what sort of contract you've got. My lawyer can find a flaw in it and get you out of it."

And it makes you not only wonder at the promoters, but at the people who are eager to pay exorbitant prices to witness fights, when they apparently can be convinced that a championship is at stake regardless of who is in the ring.

A Farmer's Diary

The Flying Squirrel.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

FOR several days, while working in the woods, I have found some interest in a tall snag of a hollow beech. Near the top I saw one morning, where the snowy frost had been disturbed by dainty tracks. I also saw the prints of tiny feet higher than my head upon two neighboring trees, one 70 feet away, the other about 50. The nearer tree showed traces of a zigzag upward path, several feet above the farther one.

I knew that worthless old stump was the home of furry little wild folk, and he had told me who he was. When he had ventured out I went close to the trunk and listened. Not the slightest sound. I tapped with the broad side of my double-bitted ax. Although all was quiet, I had a mental picture of a startled little creature, alert within a cozy nest, with fast-moving flanks and a rapidly tripping heart. It was Mr. Flying Squirrel, the finest tempered, the daintiest and the cleanest of the entire squirrel family.

He washes his pretty little face after each meal, even behind the ears, and combs his soft, thick fur with his forepaws.

His habits are nocturnal, and unless his home is mutilated or some enemy finds his snug retreat, he does not come out by day. When moonlight streams across the treetop, our little friend scampers from his warm quarters, balances himself like a crouching bird upon the bare rim of the broken snag, and sails downward and up again in a graceful arc, his tail for a rudder, until he reaches another tree, many feet away. He was the first glider of the ages.

I saw it happen the other night. The little, outstretched rear and fore feet are connected with a weblike skin. He stretched them, until from the under side, he looked twice as wide as long. He came swooping with great speed, then changed to an upward course and lit upon a tree near where I stood. So close was I that I heard his tiny claws rasp upon the bark, as he climbed, irregularly, toward the top.

Once, when a boy, we cut a failing sugar tree and routed out a mother flying squirrel, who made a graceful flying leap to a tree 80 feet away and hid among the foliage. Within her nest we found four fuzzy babies. We put them in the crotch of the tree the mother had flown upon, and hoped she would quickly find another nest.

ASHLAND JUDGE RULES ON FABER CASE FRIDAY

Jurist to Decide on Defense Motion to Dismiss Alleged 'Confession' by Official.

ASHLAND — Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson will rule tomorrow on whether an alleged confession signed by H. O. Faber, county treasurer, who with his son Olin R. Faber under three joint indictments of forgery, embezzlement and destruction of public records, will be admitted as evidence in the coming trial which begins Tuesday, April 14.

In a motion filed by the attrneys for the Fabers, the confession which the elder Faber allegedly signed Nov. 17, 1938, is attached as evidence in the case on the grounds that it was obtained by trickery and fraud, and that Faber had signed it only to admit shortages which he was "willing to make up."

Admits $300 Shortage.

The statement, of which there is a photostatic copy in the brief prepared for a court of appeals hearing here on March 14, admits shortages of $300 each for Faber and his son, in contrast to the charge made by A. Ross Silvering, Ashland prosecuting attorney, that in 124 instances in the 18 month period from Jan. 4, 1937. to June 30, 1938, a total of $1,961.60 was embezzled.

The statement which Faber signed, according to the photostatic copy is in part as follows:

"I, Harvey O. Faber, being under no duress and having received no promise of immunity and of my own free will and accord make this voluntary statement as follows:

"Early in the year 1936 Mr. Rupert of the Gilbert Furniture company brought prepaid tax receipts to my office in the court house and at different times thereafter brought more stamps in and left them with us. These prepaid tax receipts were placed in a separate place and no stamps were given in exchange. Neither was any money given to Mr. Rupert in consideration. In the usual course of business I sold stamps out of regular inventory stock and the prepaid stamps I received from Mr. Rupert of Gilberts were used to replace the ones sold from inventory.

"I then destroyed the original and the county treasurer's duplicate of the vendor's purchase order and kept the money for my own personal use. This procedure was followed on all stamps which Mr. Rupert of Gilberts left here."

STUDY SCHOOLS

Ashland Board Ponders State Condemnation Orders.

ASHLAND — Members of the Milton township school board will travel to Columbus some time next week to confer with the state department of education with the view of adopting some program for the coming year, since its one-room schools have been condemned, it was announced here by Jay Roberts, president of the board.

Unwilling to state just what stand the school board has chosen in connection with the charge by the industrial relations department that the buildings in question are in need of extensive repairs before they can be used, Roberts said that final outcome is dependent on the Columbus parley.

The buildings in question were condemned last fall, and the department of industrial relations ordered that they could not be used unless the repairs were made.

GALION BOARD RECEIVES BIDS ON NEW SCHOOL

Brick Contract Awarded to Richland Company; Murr Names Committees.

GALION—Bids were opened, tabulated, and contracts awarded for the purchase of both exterior and interior brick for construction of the new East school building when the Galion Board of Education held its March meeting Wednesday afternoon at Senior high school building in the offices of Supt. O. E. Hill.

There were seven bidders for the brick, and the board recommended the purchase of some 80,000 brick, buff color for exterior construction, at $19.75 per thousand, from the Richland Shale Brick company of Mansfield. The purchase will be made through the local dealer, O. R. Rhinehart.

Brick, Lumber Contracts.

The company was low bidder on grade A type of brick. Interior tile, a glazed fire clay brick of a tan shade, was recommended as a purchase from Ross Pepple of Lima through the Gledhill Lumber company of Galion. The price on this was quoted at $88 per thousand, and was also of Grade A material.

Another purchase recommended by the board for the new building were the steel wardrobe lockers from the Diebold Sake and Lock company of Canton at $1,825. This company was low bidder. There were only two bidders for the lockers.

Bills approved for the month, which included teachers' retirement money, water heaters for the field house at Heise park and other expenses amounted to $3,700.

No More Blue, Worried Days For Happy Mansfield Lady

Fifth Street resident had suffered for long time from gas, sour stomach, nervous indigestion and dizziness, then Vendol brought gratifying relief, she says.

MRS. RENA COSGROVE

Medicine made mostly from extracts of Nature's Herbs have been popular for generations. But Vendol improved this type of medicine by adding Alkalines, which provides a remedy far superior to any previously sold That is why Vendol is so popular all over this section, and keeps the Vendol Man busy at Central Druy Store meeting people daily and explaining all about it. He hears many experiences like the following:

Mrs. Rena Cosgrove, residing at 37 W. Fifth St., Mansfield says: "I had been miserable for some time, suffering almost constantly, trying first one medicine then another without getting anywhere. I spent many a blue, despondent, worried day. My trouble was constipation which was causing many other ailments. I couldn't eat a meal without suffering from sour stomach, gas, bloating, shortness of breath, and palpitation. Often I'd go for the soda after a meal.

"This condition kept me feeling tired, worn-out, no energy to work, yet when night came I couldn't sleep well. I often felt dizzy, had headaches, and lost my appetite.

"So many people here at home were recommending Vendol for these troubles that I finally bought some, but I was a little doubtful of it helping me Soon, I realized how different Vendol was, and it started my bowels moving like a charm. Now, since taking it a few days I eat three hearty meals a day without a sign of my former suffering I enjoy peaceful sleep every night, never have a headache or dizzy spell, and feel so much better generally that I'm really like a different person.

"Vendol was just the medicine I needed. It is the best I ever tried and now I'm recommending it to all my friends."

Give Vendol a chance to help you, too. It is made of Roots, Herbs and valuable Alkalines and you'll never know its wonderful virtues till you try it. The Vendol Man at Central Drug Store, Cor. Main & Fourth Sts., invites you to call and let him explain all about it. Leading druggists everywhere sell Vendol.

Enjoy A Good Night's Rest

BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE certainly makes short work of relieving those stubborn old hang-on coughs and colds that other cough remedies fail to budge, according to Mr H. A. Allen.

Mr. Allen says "For years I suffered every winter with a terrible cough. I have had many sleepless nights and coughed until tears ran, and my stomach ached. I started again with the same old cough this year—but after a few doses of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE my cough was gone"

You can't go wrong on BUCKLEY'S—by far the largest-selling cough medicine in all cold Canada One or two doses and stubborn tough hang-on coughs are often on their way And it's only a few cents at druggists everywhere. Money back if not delighted.

Book of the Week

WHEN Wiliam E. Dodd went to Germany as ambassador in 1933 he did not go alone. His entourage included, among other things, a daughter named Martha. Miss Dodd had been assistant literary editor on the Chicago Tribune some two years when the move took place. During this time she had learned how to write, quite likely.

Anyway, she must have made rather complete notes from the early days of her stay in Berlin, because she has turned out a book of nearly 400 pages called "Through Embassy Eyes," which very seldom seems to be in doubt about anything, and, in addition, seems to have no reticences whatever It is a trifle confusing, for there was an idea somewhere in the back of the writer's head that the general rule of diplomatic families was not to discuss things which came to them through official channels. And of course all Miss Dodd's information was had through the fact that her father was ambassador, gathered at official teas, receptions, balls and whatnots.

When Miss Dodd went to Berlin her attitude toward the Nazi regime was tolerant at least. Gradually she changed, until now, apparently, she is as bitterly anti-Nazi as the Nazis are anti-Jew. A good many things must have gone into forcing the change, and this reader has the feeling that some of them are not mentioned in the book. However this may be, it is true that except in some of the refugee productions there have been no more devastating pen pictures of the leading Nazis than Miss Dodd produces.

At the end, there is another strange section dealing with the last days of her father's regime, Miss Dodd's private reasons for the things that happened, and sundry comments on other people in the State Department which certainly will set some of the longer diplomatic beards wagging.

This makes entertainment of a high order—high in the sense the word is used in connection with game. Once opened, "Through Embassy Eyes" is a product very difficult to close. Discussions of Goering's alleged "dope" habit, Hitler's alleged lack of sexuality and so forth is bound to be piquant. Whether the book should have been written is quite another matter, this reader would vote "no." —By J. S.

Captured Convict Re-Enacts Escape. Stays Free.

BUDAPEST — (INS) — "Show us how you escaped this prison." That was the command of the head of a police commission to Alexander Vas, a burglar, who later was caught in a new burglary.

"It was like this," said Vas politely as he rapidly climbed a 12-foot wall, leaped off the other side and disappeared. attempts to recapture him were hopeless.

KILLS WHALE

Liner Ploughs Into Huge Mammal Off Zealand.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — (INS) — A 40-ft. whale was killed by a propeller of the Orient liner Orford while the vessel was steaming from Brisbane to Auckland. The liner was proceeding at 16½ knots in a calm sea when two whales were sighted ahead. These avoided the liner but a third whale, apparently rising to the surface, came up under the Orford and was killed.

CONVICT'S DAUGHTER + + +

By RUTH RAY KANE

(Copyright, 1938.)

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

THIS COULDN'T be real, Lona caught herself thinking again and again throughout the harrowing scenes of the next few minutes. This couldn't be happening to her. It was some other girl, some story-book character who was here in the warden's house, hands uplifted before the menacing guns of two desperate, escaping prisoners.

She watched, dazed, while Warden Lewis was forced by the sneering Lefty to order out his car, and dismiss the chauffeur who came to the door to report to him when it was drawn up and waiting in the drive outside the house.

With the warden's clothes covering their tell-tale gray uniforms, the two convicts herded Lewis and Lona into the car. The warden driving, they trundled out through the darkened drives to the heavy gates.

"No!" Lona heard herself protesting as the gate swung open in the gathering mist, and the road stretched before them unguarded. "I can't leave Daddy! You can't take me—"

"Shut up, you! A harsh voice silenced her, and the gun in Louie's hand pressed closer to her ribs.

Away from the towering walls, the one called Lefty ordered the warden to turn into a side street and come to a stop. While the wheels were still spinning, Louie leaned from the back seat, and before Lona knew what was happening, he had brought his gun down with a crack over the warden's head. Lewis slumped, soundlessly, and Lona stifled a scream.

"You've killed him!" The words almost refused to come. "You've killed him—"

"Aw, fer God's sake, shut up, will you!" ordered Lefty, and a stinking bunch of rags was thrust into her mouth and tied with a handkerchief behind her neck.

The warden's body was limp and his head lolled from side to side as they dumped him out and dragged him, unresisting, into a clump of trees of what looked like a city park. They left him there, and the sight of their faces, revealed in the street light as they slunk back toward the car, struck terror to Lona's heart anew. They were desperate looking, tense and brutal

Shrinking down, she tried to open the car door on the far side and slip out. But they were too quick for her. The one called Louie caught her in his arms as she almost fell onto the running board. His clutch on her was hard and rough and a startled oath sprang to his twisted lips as he realized what she was doing.

"Askin' fer it, eh?" he growled. She saw his hand come up, the gun butt shining. She tried to scream through her gag as she realized he was about to hit her as he had the warden. Desperately her hands went up to ward off the blow and she crouched, her eyes on that terrible, uplifted gun.

At just that moment, as if at a signal, a screaming wail seemed to rise from the ground on all sides of them—a shrill, unearthly, ear-splitting screech that went up and down until it seemed their startled ear drums must break. With an oath Louie pushed her headlong back into the front seat of the car, his intended blow undelivered.

"The siren! They're on to us!" he ground out, between whitened lips. "Get started!"

They were off before he had slammed the door. Sweating, Lefty crouched over the wheel, his foot on the warden's accelerator. Shooting through the night, that unearthly wail eddying about them, they were out of the city and onto the open highway in what seemed like an instant. With every mile the girl's heart sank farther and farther.

"Attention all cars! Attention all cars! . . . "the warden's radio began to howl as Lefty flipped it on with a nervous hand. . . . "Believed heading northwest. . . . Believed heading northwest. . . .using warden and girl for a screen . . . girl's father, a fellow convict, is dying in the prison hospital . . . girl is badly needed."

With a sudden oath Louie reached down and tore the gag from Lona's mouth, prodding her into silence with his gun as he did so.

"If we're stopped, you're my wife," he told her, his harsh voice grating against the siren's din, now dying out in the distance behind them. His words were clipped and came from the side of his mouth. "Get me?"

Relieved of the gag, Lona gasped for breath in a long, choking sub. In her ears the radio still dinned. "Girl badly needed . . . girl badly needed . . . father dying . . . father dying . . . "

"Shut up, you!"

"But he's dying! Don't you hear?"

"Let him die. You're goin' places."

"He's dying. I tell you—"

"An' what d'ye think we'll do if they catch us?"

"Oh, please—"

"Shut up, will you! The gun dug into her back savagely and she subsided. With burning eyes she watched the miles speed by, each one carrying her father and farther away. The sound of the siren had died out completely now, and only the droning radio cut into the night silence, broken by the high-pitched whine of the warden's motor being pushed unmercifully. Over and over again the fateful words beat into her brain: "Girl's father is dying . . . girl's father is dying . . . "

Desperately she watched for signs of pursuit. Despite the warning of the radio and the heaviness of the early evening traffic, nobody seemed to pay them any attention. Each time they whizzed past another speeding car she found herself grow tense, waiting for a shot that never came; at each crossroad it seemed there must be a carload of armed policemen, barring their way, ending this dreadful waiting.

But nothing happened, and gradually it dawned on her that it was because of her they were holding off. Using the warden and the girl as a screen . . " the radio droned again, and a frantic resolve took hold of her Closing her eyes she let her body slump suddenly.

"I'm—going—to—faint—" she brought out, weakly. "Stop—"

"Hey, you can't pass out on us!" The gun prodded into her ribs anew. "You gotta sit up an' be seen. Here! . . . Sit up, you!"

"Sorry," she gasped, and allowed herself to go even limper, her head sinking against the driver's shoulder.

"Get her up!" Lefty shot frantically at the cursing Louie. "Hold her head up. She's gotta be seen."

"Hell—" Fumbling, Louie dropped the gun into his lap as he struggled to lift her relaxed body and prop up her lolling head. It was the chance for which she had been praying. Stiffening suddenly, she threw herself headlong onto the driver, grasping at the wheel.

There was an instant's tussle, a moment of dreadful swaying and being flung about, a piercing scream she couldn't quite check. Then they crashed. The last thing she heard was a rattle of shots from somewhere behind them. After that she knew no more!

Butler and Weller M. E. Churches to Join in Services

The first of a series of loyalty evangelistic services at the Pavonia, Olivesburg, Adario and Franklin Methodist churches in Weller and Butler townships, will open at 7:30 p. m. Sunday with a union service at the Franklin church.

The services will continue four weeks through Easter Sunday and will be conducted by Rev. F. M. Dickey, pastor of the four congregations and laymen of the four churches. All services begin at 7:30 p. m.

The first week of services will be held at the Olivesburg church starting Monday evening and continuing through March 19. The second week will be at the Pavonia church, third week at the Adario, and the final week at the Franklin church. Scripture readings at the services will be by leaders of the various churches and church schools and members of the Epworth leagues.

Sunday evening Rev. Dickey will speak on "Show Us the Father." Subjects during the first week are: Monday, "A Wild Olive Tree"; Tuesday, "The Meaning of Parenthood"; Wednesday, "When Life Tumbles In"; Thursday, "Christ, the Saviour"; Friday, "Problems of Modern Youth," and Sunday, March 12, "What Think Ye of Christ?"

During services next week at the Olivesburg church, Mrs. Eunice Wolf will be pianist, and Ray Houston will be song leader.

FOREMEN WILL HEAR HUMORIST

Arthur F. Briese, 'Knight of Satire,' Addresses Dinner Meeting Monday.

Arthur F. Briese, Chicago, nationally known humorist, will address the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club at a dinner meeting Monday evening at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Known as "America's Knight of Satire," Briese has spoken before clubs throughout the nation and is considered one of the country's outstanding after-dinner speakers.

Monday night's meeting of the foremen's organization follows a dinner at 6:30 p. m., and will be the annual "ladies' night" session with wives of members as guests.

Musical entertainment for the meeting will be in charge of club members from the Tappan Stove company. Jay S. Cairns, vice president of the club and chairman of the program committee is in charge of the program for the meeting.

CLEARS AUTOIST

Prosecutor Exonerates Driver in Death of Boy, 13.

County Prosecutor G. W. Marriott today had cleared C. G. Koontz, 18 Chandler place, of responsibility in the traffic death Sunday night of Robert Ray Brightbill, 13-year-old East Mansfield boy.

The prosecutor announced his decision after questioning Koontz, driver of the car which struck and fatally injured the boy while he was playing near his home.

Two youthful playmates of the victim who witnessed the accident and state patrolmen and deputy sheriffs who investigated the mishap also were questioned by Marriott, who said the accident was unavoidable.

The youth ran in front of the car and was struck in the side as he stooped to recover one of his roller skates. The mishap occurred just after dark on route 30 in East Mansfield.

Vote Near for Parole Board, Tax Commission 'Rippers'

MAJOR BILLS GIVEN O. K. BY COMMITTEES

Measure to Oust Myrna Smith, Two Others Wins Approval After Long Debate.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Backed by unanimous committee recommendations for passage, major administration ripper bills for creation of a new pardon and parole commission and for reorganization of the state's tax collection agency headed today toward an early vote on the floor of the senate.

After weeks of consideration the senate taxation committee reported favorably on the bill to wipe out the present tax commission and substitute an administrator and three-member board of tax appeals.

The judiciary committee followed suit by sending to the floor the proposal to abolish the four-member parole board and establish a three-member pardon and parole commission. The bill also recodifies parole administration and contains provisions aimed to eliminate abuses in parole administration.

Jobs of Four Menaced.

Senate leaders said both measures probably would be brought up for action by the middle of next week. Under the parole bill Mrs. Myrna Smith, secretary to former Governor Davey, and at least two other members probably would lose their jobs. Mrs. Ann Makley, Dayton, board secretary, also probably would be dismissed.

Members of the pardon and parole commission would serve six years at $6,000 a year. A new secretary would serve at the board's pleasure at a salary to be fixed by the board. Parole field officers and supervisors would be directly responsible to the welfare department, the board would recommend executive action on pardons, commutations and reprieves also, but could not limit the governor's authoriy in these matters.

Under the tax commission "reorganizer" the administrator would have a four-year term at an annual $7,500 salary. He could also name five deputy commissioners. Board members would serve six years except for initial staggered terms, and would receive $6,000 salaries. Tax appeals could be taken either directly to court or to the board from decisions of local boards of revision.

Committee action also appeared near on the Huml "anti-injunction" bill to curb the power of courts to issue injunctions against strikers in labor disputes. The house judiciary committee voted to take action on the bill next Tuesday.

Mumps Continue To Spread, 24 New Cases Reported

The spread of mumps in Richland county, principally in Mansfield, showed no signs of abating today as Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner said 24 new cases were reported to the health department during the past week as compared with a total of 12 cases during the previous week.

Of the new cases, 18 were in the city and six in the remainder of the county.

While there is no cause for alarm, Dr. Rehder warned of the dangers of complications resulting from the disease which he explained was prevalent throughout the state at this time, chiefly among school children.

Health department records revealed a slight decrease in the past week in other contagious diseases. There were five cases of scarlet fever reported as compared with nine during the week previous while only four cases of whooping cough and two of chickenpox were reported.

The laboratory in conjunction with the classroom of Miss Mariel Aberle, biology teacher ot Senior high school, soon will take on the appearance of an art gallery as the result of a project recently started there by 19 students of the art classes. The students are painting a large mural on the west wall of the laboratory that in some way will be related to the subject of biology. When the mural is completed, two smaller ones will be planned for the south and west walls.

These are anxious days for M. W. Conley, head of the county old age pension office, and his assistants who are watching the Republican ax fall on the heads of Democratic appointees on all sides. Named by former Gov. Martin L. Davey, the county pension chief is one of the few who have survived the Republican "house-cleaning" and Conley expects daily to get the "bad news" from Columbus. Republicans already have been endorsed to take over the pension office when a change is ordered.

California may have all of the sunshine it can use, and all of the flowers and other assets claimed by the Chamber of Commerce, but apparently it falls down on maple syrup. Carl Simon, former Mansfielder, and still an Ohioan at heart after several years in California, has ordered a shipment of Ohio maple syrup sent to his Oakland, Calif., home. He indicated that the California brand was only "a fair substitute" for the Ohio product.

BUYS 'BIKE'

Police Department Soon to Get Three-Wheeled Cycle.

A new three-wheel motorcycle for traffic use which will make it possible for one police officer to check parking, was purchased yesterday by the police department. The purchase was authorized by council.

The present machine, of an old style with side car has necessitated the service of two officers throughout the day. It was sold for $160, and the new one purchased for $475.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist said today that the new motorcycle, is without a side car but has three wheels which makes it posible for one operator to ride it and stop to mark cars without getting off the machine.

The new motorcycle, a Harley-Davidson, was purchased from the Ernest D. Price agency, 286 Park avenue east. The machine will not be delivered for several days or a week. Nist said.

APPOINTED UCC MANAGER HERE

Handley, Ex-Monroe Township School Head for 16 Years, Succeeds Wells.

Cecil W. Handley, former superintendent of the Monroe township schools today was named manager of the Mansfield branch office of the Ohio Unemployment Compensation commission to succeed Maurice K. Wells, who was dismissed Monday along with 15 other managers throughout the state.

Also appointed along with 13 other local office managers today were Elra W. Tracht of Bucyrus and Lawrence S. Sperry of Mt. Vernon.

Handley, who was named from the civil service list, was superintendent of the Monroe township schools for 16 years. He resigned early in 1938.

Handley took over his duties here today. He said O. H. Hoppe who has served as acting manager for the past three days will be claims examiner here. Hoppe, former head of the National Re-Employment service in Mansfield has been employed at the unemployment commission's central office in Columbus for the past two months.

Meanwhile Hoppe announced that persons who have filed claims for unemployment compensation will not be required to report to the local office to request a redetermination of their benefits under the new rule for figuring an average weekly wage which the commission recently adopted.

"All benefits will be redetermined automatically at the Columbus office," Hoppe said, "and proper adjustments made in any cases in which the claimant is entitled to increased benefits."

He explained however that claimants are still required to report to the office here once a week in order to have their claims continued if still unemployed.

RELIEF LOAD IN OHIO REDUCED 11 PER CENT, LAWMAKERS TOLD

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—A sharp decline in poor relief costs at the outset of this year gave encouragement today to legislators hoping to restrict the state's share of aid for the needy to $10,000,000 a year.

The state contributed $18,000,000 of the $25,000,000 expended for direct relief last year; the counties and cities the remainder.

Ohio's relief bill in January was $2,111,775, or 11 per cent less than January, 1938, O. P. Van Schoik, chief relief examiner for State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, reported.

Furthermore, Van Schoik estimated that the February relief expenditure of the nine counties with the heaviest loads would approximate $1,447,000, or 21 per cent under their expenses for the same month of 1938.

Van Schoik's figures indicated decreases in Clark, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Stark and Summit counties.

The encumbrances of the nine largest relief counties for February will exceed January expenses by about four per cent, Van Schoik said. In contrast, expenses for the entire state in February, 1938, increased 12 per cent over January of that year.

The auditor's figures showed a peculiar situation. Although the relief load for January was 96,629 cases, an increase of 9,934 over December, the January expenditures represented a decline of $305,105 under December.

Legislative observers wondered to what extent the payment of unemployment insurance benefits was responsible for the reduction in February expenditures.

GUARDS LAUNCH HUNT AS BOGUS COINS TURN UP

Quarters, Fifty-Cent Pieces Found; Prisoner Tells of Seeing 'Bag of Money.'

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — An intensive search for the molds from which he said counterfeit coins were made by convicts was pressed today by Acting Warden W. F. Amrine at Ohio penitentiary.

"I regret to say I do not have them," Amrine said last night. Only a few hours earlier he disclosed that his investigation of the prison had revealed existence of counterfeiting activities within the walls.

Asked how much bogus money had been discovered, the acting warden said he did not know definitely because some coins collected by guards had not yet been reported to him.

Interested Only In Molds.

"I am interested now in finding the molds," he added.

Amrine's investigation, ordered by Welfare Director Charles Sherwood who charged that "unwarranted conditions" existed, resulting in the suspension of Warden James C. Woodard, a deputy warden and five guards.

Gov. John W. Bricker said late yesterday that he had instructed prison authorities to refer to the Franklin county prosecutor any evidence of a criminal nature. Amrine said earlier that a secret service operative had been asked to assist in the counterfeiting inquiry.

When newsmen asked Amrine to see the fake money that had been turned in to him so far, Amrine showed them two five-cent pieces, three quarters and a 50-cent piece —$1.35.

Asked what led him to believe the money was coined inside the prison, Amrine said: "The proof is in the molds."

One prisoner, who conducts a concession shining shoes for guards, told investigators that he had "seen" a bag of bogus money. He said he "tested" all money he got before accepting it.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Stand Taken at Last in Opposition to Theories Spending's Recovery Key

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

WASHINGTON—Some happy day another generation of Americans will have a cackle at the expense of this one for our gullibility in the presence of a plague of number fakers, calling themselves economists, who persuaded us that wrong was right, that loss was profit and that a crashing failure was equivalent to a smashing success.

They put a spell on us—that's what they did—and convinced us we could spend our way out of debt when anybody's little boy could have shown with a pencil and paper that this way was against the rules of arithmetic and the unchangeable examples of the apples.

At present, after more than six years of chancing on such advice, there comes a warning from Pat Harrison, the chairman of the senate financing committee, that unless we stop squandering economic chaos is inevitable—which is another way of saying that the United States government will go through the wringer like any other mismanaged business.

This is the first time since the innocents rallied around early in the first New Deal that the "charge it" school of management has been challenged that loud and the first time in the life of the Roosevelt government that the people have troubled their thoughts with the truth.

Back in the early stages there were many who had their doubts but waived them without much resistance in the presence of the depressing fact that saving and economy in their own affairs had left them broke in the great crash. That experience was said to prove that saving and thrift were folly and extravagance and waste new virtues.

Meanwhile, from time to time, business men were still compelled to do business by the old arithmetic and threatened with jail for any resort to the new, and uneasy mention of such little brothers as taxes and costs was met with scornful oratory about well-fed clubmen, copperheads and Tories.

The cost will be high, but one result will be the exposure of the frauds who came into Washington disguised as minor statisticians and office managers and presently were imposing on the affairs of the American government their personal interpretations of figures and debating on truths which were not arguable but fixed.

Simple realities of mathematics became subjects for whimsical ruling to the contrary. There were no rules, and individual authorities often disagreed with each other and both disagreed with obvious facts, but the hex was on the people and they could not even question, much less argue.

All this has been accompanied by a sneering and domineering demeanor toward any who presumed to mention old fundamentals, but the time has come now when a stand is being made not so much, immediately, against further spending as against the philosophy, so-called, of irresponsible, mischievous and cynical world-shakers come to power quietly and almost secretly by casual appointment.

Harrison's declaration — which represents not Harrison alone but the whole "anti" group of the Democrats—calls for a public understanding of the fact that, if the spending continues, then the nation must go broke and, in the way that nations have when broke, bail itself out of debt by repudiation.

Harrison hasn't said the nation will go broke. That would be unstatesmanlike and alarmist language, but that is the common man's interpretation of what he did say.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Only yesterday. . . .

Tyrone Power—and after "Lloyd's of London" too!—between trains in Chicago hiked up and down Michigan boulevard looking for a friendly face . . . so lonesome . . . and nobody even said Hello. . . .

Ann Harding, introduced to George Bernard Shaw on a movie set, was moved to tears by his jibes—and Alice Brady, also present, said plenty about G. B. S., now Hollywood's newest lit'ry light. . . .

Carole Lombard nearly lost her movie career in an auto crash, which left her with the slight cheek scar you can still spot in close-ups. . . .

Irene Dunne was buried in her first picture—a musical flopperoo—and resurrected in her second, "Cimarron."

And Connie Bennett cooly turned down a contract for ten weeks at $300,000—until she got it without any strings attached, plus assurance that the Warner Bros. would pay income tax on same.

And Cesar Romero was brought out as a dashing Latin, a new Great Lover — but remained to find a niche as comedian and "heavy."

Ditto Ivan Lebedeff, who had his friends attend the sneak preview of his first—and last—starring picture and send in postcard raves. . . . So that RKO really thought it had a second Valentino on hand. . . . There's been no more successful stunt in Hollywood—and I think Ivan is still laughing.

A chap named Gable was taking riding lessons . . . to the point of soreness . . . so as to hang on in Hollywood as a western "heavy."

And Sam Goldwyn was telling another kid named Taylor to fatten up and learn to act before he asked for another screen test . . .

Jesse Lasky was telling a press conference that the talkies were just a passing fad—and a month later his studio was frantic, trying to catch up. . . .

Mack Sennett was king of comedy. . . . And Will Rogers was flopping as a silent screen star for Hal Roach, while Aileen Pringle was lying down on tiger-skin rugs for Elinor Glyn movies—and all the time reigning as queen of the local intelligentsia. . . .

Claudette Colbert and Norman Foster (now her ex-) were co-starring in "Young Man of Manhattan" and the movie fans at large had never heard of either . . .

Shirley Temple was in diapers—actually—for those "Baby Burlesk" films.

Betty Compson was the busiest star in town. . . . And her "Street Girl" was a talkie sensation.

Hugh Herbert was writing and directing, and the screen hadn't yet heard his woo-woo . . . while John Carradine was posturing on the boulevard like a hammy Shakespearean, looking more like an actor than anybody in town—the only drawback being he didn't have a job. . . .

SOCIETY & CLUBS

DISCUSSES SOCIAL MEDICINE PROPOSAL

Dr. F. J. Heringhaus Tells Members of Student Club Advantages, Disadvantages of Plan; Group Considers Welfare.

THERE are several groups of persons not receiving satisfactory medical care and hospitalization," Dr. F. J. Heringhaus told members of the Student club last night when he spoke on "Socialized Medicine." Among the groups he enumerated are the indigents, low income earners, those who have excessive major illnesses, and those who live in areas where medical facilities are inadequate.

Out of all these, those who most need help are the vast number of persons in the low income brackets, the doctor pointed out. While pointing out some of the disadvantages of socialized medicine as now proposed, he admitted that the maintenance of public health is a government business

What Government Does.

In this connection he pointed out that the government already distributes toxins and anti-toxins, has both quarantine and pure food and drug laws, aids the handicapped, enforces sanitary regulations and treats social diseases. The principal objection to socialized medicine, Dr. Heringhaus explained, is the too complete socialization of the medical profession.

This tends, he explained, to lower the quality of medical service, prevent patients from exercising the right of free selection in choosing their physicians, and such a system would be taken advantage of by dishonest persons.

Dr. Heringhaus indicated that a federal health bureau, an expansion of the present hospitalization and clinical care of patients, and some type of voluntary insurance would help the medical profession's problem of adequate care considerably.

During the business meeting Mrs. J. B. Simons, president, appointed Mrs. Charles Kuntz, Mrs. Heringhaus and Mrs. M. L. Smith to the welfare committee to attend a meeting at the health department next Wednesday evening to discuss the possibilities of a school dental clinic.

Plan Bridge.

Tentative plans for a benefit bridge party were discussed, and Mrs. Arthur Glattke was named chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. C. R. Montgomery, Mrs. E. H. Schaub, Mrs. L. L. Wenger and Miss Lucille Kearns.

Refreshments were served to the members and guests, Mrs. William Riester and Mrs. Robert McCaffrey, by Mrs. Heringhaus, who entertained at her Coleman road home last night, and Mrs. Simons. Mrs. Kuntz presided at the table which was decorated with a large centerpiece of yellow jonquils and white narcissi flanked at either end by three-branch crystal candelabra with lighted white tapers.

The next regular meeting will be March 22 with Mrs. C. R. Montgomery as hostess assisted by Mrs. Smith.

Covered-Dish Dinner Served to Club Women

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. Clarence Jones and Mrs. Thomas Banks were guests of honor yesterday when the Willing Workers society of the Little Washington church served a birthday luncheon for them. The afternoon was spent in quilting at the church and the group will meet again next Wednesday at the church.

Program, Dinner Conducted To Celebrate Club Anniversary

THE spring flowers, lighted white tapers and green shamrocks that decorated the tables at the Mansfield-Leland hotel last night indicated more than just the approach of spring. They were decorations in honor of the 15th birthday of the Mansfield Business and Professional Women's Club. The dinner meeting was attended by 125 members from the city organization, and guests from Ashland, Bucyrus and Newark.

Dr. C. L. Anspach, president of Ashland college, was the guest speaker. His topic was "The Greatest Problem in the World." Miss Esther Lantz, dramatic instructor, gave readings entitled "Characterization of Mary Stewart" and "Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata."

The organization glee club directed by Miss Myrtle Booth presented several of the numbers which were sung at the musicale tea Feb. 26. They included "I Passed By Your Window" by Brahe-Lucas, "Sylvia" and "A Song of Gladness" by Speaks-Deis, "In The Still of the Night" by Cole Porter and the club theme song by Ira B. Wilson.

During the short business meeting the club was invited to attend a session March 12 at Fostoria when that organization received its charter. The sixth district meeting was announced at Granville Inn, Granville, March 19, and the regional meeting will be held March 26 at Canton. Miss Marjorie High, transportation chairman, will be in charge of arrangements for attending these affairs.

Last night's committee members included Helen Herring, Flora Lentzy, Pearl Wierman, Adeline Underwood, Ruth Wiseman, Jennie Konrad and Lottie Miller. The next regular meeting will be April 12 at the hotel.

Plan Anniversary for Eureka Birthday Club

Members of the Eureka Birthday club made final plans for the 25th anniversary of their founding yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Herman Schmitz entertained with a dessert-luncheon at her home on Park avenue east. The celebration will be held on April 13. The club was founded by Mrs. Howard D. Keith on April 7, 1914.

Five hundred was the diversion of yesterday afternoon's meeting, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. L. Linkhart and Mrs. G. H. Schrack. The group is also planning to have a fish fry on March 29 at the Schmitz home. Mrs. Charles Remy will have the next regular club meeting at her home, 20 Lexington avenue.

Groups Remain Active During Lenten Period Presenting Religious Programs and Social Affairs at Homes of Members.

AMONG the church meetings occupying Mansfield women during the Lenten period was the session last night of the Esther class of the Mayflower Congregational church at the home of Mrs. Cleo Hainer, Dudley avenue. Mrs. Imo Davis was the associate hostess and devotions were led by Mrs. Ralph Peat.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Carl Stough following which there was group singing and contests. The prize winners were Mrs. L. H. Edwards, Mrs. Lyal Ish and Mrs. Albert Frank. A shamrock motif was carried out in the green and white color scheme which decorated the refreshment table.

Plans were made to have an all-day covered-dish dinner meeting April 12 at the home of Mrs. Nellie Scott, 389 Springmill street. At this time Mrs. Harry Adams will assist with arrangements for the affair which will honor all members having birthdays during the first four months of the year.

Harker A. Enlow, Red Cross safety director, and L. W. Hartman were guests speakers last evening at a meeting of the Catherine Van Bora class of the First Lutheran church. Mr. Enlow and Mr. Hartman spoke on safety, first aid, life saving, and Red Cross work. Following their talk, they showed the new Red Cross safety film entitled, "Why Not Live?"

Twenty members of the class were present for the covered-dish dinner in the parish house of the church at 6:30 o'clock, and after the program they had contests. Mrs. Mildred Williams and Miss Florence Herring were the prize winners.

Mrs. Marguerite Matthews, Mrs. Mary Norris, Mrs. Helen Metz and Mrs. Edna Graham were in charge of arrangements for last night's affair. The next regular class meeting will be held on May 10 with Mrs. John Brant in charge.

There were 26 members of the Good Cheer Circle of the South Main Street Evangelical church present at the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Moser, Greenwood avenue, yesterday. Mrs. B. F. LaFevre led the devotions and the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Amos Minard.

A St. Patrick theme was carried out in both decorations and entertainment, with Mrs. Clarence Wolf and Mrs. George Nagle winning the prizes. The luncheon was served from a table decorated with green and white appointments. Mrs. Moser was assisted by Mrs. W. G. Herrold and Mrs. Amos Birch. The next meeting will be April 12 with Mrs. Roberta Burns, Mrs. Alice Laughman and Mrs. Helen Lanning in charge.

Mrs. Maxwell Hostess to Missionary Society

There were 17 members and one guest, Mrs. Doyle Beal, present for a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Brethren church yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dawson Maxwell, Springmill street.

Mrs. L. C. Clark read the afternoon's devotions when the topic was "God's Promise." Mrs. Harry Kiel gave a reading entitled "Under His Wings." St. Patrick's appointments were carried out later when refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the society will be held April 12 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Miles, 36 Miller street.

Talks on Trees Before Conversational Club

Mrs. Douglas Gott, 101 West Park drive, was hostess yesterday to members of the Conversational club when Mrs. Mary Thornberry spoke on "The Lure of Trees" and told of some of the specimens she had seen at Lake Chautauqua.

St. Patrick appointments were used on the tea table at which Miss Elizabeth Smurr presided. Mrs. W. H. McLelland was the only guest. The next meeting will be a luncheon March 22 with Mrs. Paul Endriss.

Husband Doesn't Take Her Out

DEAR MIS SFAIRFAX:

"I am only 18 years old now, and my husband is 22. We've been married over a year, and have a baby three months, but I feel as old as the hills. My husband never stays at home evenings, and does not even tell me where he is. I've pleaded with him to take me with him sometimes, but he just ignores me and goes alone. I'm beginning to believe that he doesn't love me any more, when he treats me in this manner. I adore him, and he knows it too.

Please tell me what to do, if it weren't for the baby, I'd leave him. I. D.

Perhaps you show too plainly how much you care, and, strangely, there are some people who are blind to their blessings. They never appreciate love till it vanishes. Do you keep yourself looking as smart as other girls of your own age? I think you are right in trying to keep the home together because of the baby

He ought to take turns with you staying home with the baby so you can go out with your girl friends occasionally, or to a movie. Talk this over with him, and try not to nag him about his going out so often without you Perhaps he will surprise you some day by turning over a new leaf.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, March 10.

THE VERY auspicious planetary configurations offer an outstanding opportunity for attaining high goals in both business and purely personal associations It is a day for pushing toward this with all the might and main, although there may be drastic action and some fundamental reorganizations, attendant upheavals and excitement.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great and surprising opportunities for reaching the land of heart's desire, both in business and in private aspirations Romance adventure and change, with far-reaching and expansive episodes are forecast although it may mean complete disorganization, reorientation and innovations in the life and destiny

A child born on this day may be excellently endowed with all the graces, faculties and forces for reaching a high place in life Position, power, honors and happiness may be wrested from perhaps rather devastating or curious circumstances.

Just as soon in the spring as you can possibly work the land is when you should get strawberry plants, and that should be from the middle of April to the first of May. Getting strawberries started early gives them a chance to establish root systems before there is any chance of dry weather, holding things up. If you have an irrigation system, strawberries can be started most any time.

A small amount of lemon juice, orange juice and grated lemon rind will add flavor to stewed fresh or dried fruits. Use about 1 tablespoon of juice and ¼ teaspoon of rind for each 2 cups of fruit.

Leather chairs put in storage are likely to mildew. If a little petroleum ointment is rubbed over the leather the mildew will easily be removed.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"You are not answering my question." Philip Veritzen interrupted my reverie summarily. "Shall I ask Her Majesty to marry me as Philip Veritzen, or shall I tell her the truth?"

"The truth, by all means," I told him promptly for I had seen enough of Olga to know something of her attitude toward the man who had so signally befriended her.

"She already is sensitive over the favors you have heaped upon her," I went on. "She knows, too, that her beauty is—not what it has been. If you propose marriage to her in the guise of the wealthy, famous Philip Veritzen, she will have but two solutions for your proposal. She will think that you are anxious to enhance your social prestige by marrying a royal personage, or she will believe that you are asking her to marry you out of pity, and because you cannot persuade her to accept your charity in any other way"

He put his head in his hands for a second or two, while something that was almost a groan came from his lips.

"When I think how nearly I escaped asking her without your advice, I am appalled," he said at last, lifting his head and looking at me with troubled eyes. "She undoubtedly would have refused me, and any revelation of my identity which I could have made after that would have been a grotesque anti-climax."

His infallible dramatic sense had told him that, I said to myself even as I silently agreed with him.

"So I must go to her with the revelation that I was once the young officer who loved her so dearly!" he said musingly. "Why! it will be like ghosts meeting and greeting each other!"

I silently agreed with him, but aloud I scoffed.

"What nonsence!" I said. "Let me tell you that there isn't a woman in the world who could listen unmoved to the story of lifelong devotion to her such as you have shown to Queen Olga."

"Do you really think so?" he asked

'I know so," I replied

"Then," he said quickly, "how soon do you think you could arrange an interview for me with her?"

Take Time When Eating

By MME. QUI VIVE

Taking care of the digestion, seeing that it is not abused or overworked, is one way of taking care of the complexion The skin, like every cell of the body, is dependent upon nutrition Give your body the food it needs and no more Physicians agree that most people eat more chow than they require. That habit causes a tax on the digestive motors.

Rapid eating is a deplorable habit, common among young girls whose activities keep them on the jump It may be the sole cause of a speckled trout complexion The first processes of digestion are performed by the teeth. They are the chopping knives that prepare the groceries for entrance to the stomach. By thorough mastication the gastric juice is present in larger quantities, and this liquid helps the tummy in its work of preparing nourishment to be picked up by the blood streams, which distribute it throughout the physical system.

There are three salivary glands in the mouth; they are influenced unfavorably by hurry and emotion. Fear, worry, arguments make them go on strike. If food does not appear appetizing or exudes an unpleasant odor they refuse to work It is quite true that the sight and smell of deliciously prepared dishes make the mouth water Tummy is ready and waiting for the coming feast In the saliva is an element known as ptyalin, necessary for the normal assimilation of starchy foods.

Ill nature has a bad effect upon the salivary glands. It causes a dryness of the tongue and throat Appetite departs.

Dishes Suitable For Youth

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

WHEN THE household includes youngsters, it is well to have on hand a wide variety of tasty, nourishing puddings, the type of sweet that grown-ups enjoy, too. The recipes given today include peanut butter in the ingredient line-up, which takes care of the nourishing part.

Peanut Butter Apple Crumble calls for six cooking apples, one-half cup each sugar and flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons each peanut butter and butter. Pare apples and slice into a shallow, 10x6-inch buttered baking dish. Mix sugar, flour and salt Cut in peanut butter and butter with pastry blender or two knives until mixture is crumbly. Pour evenly on top of apples. Bake in 350 degrees F. oven 50 minutes or until apples are soft. Serve warm with cream or a foamy sauce Serves six.

Carolina Ice Cream.

Carolina Ice Cream requires one-fourth cup each peanut butter and powdered sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup milk, one cup heavy cream, one egg white, one cup cooked rice, well drained, 10 maraschino cherries, sliced, and one-half teaspoon vanilla Place peanut butter, sugar, salt and milk in a bowl Whip with rotary beater until stiff Add peanut butter mixture, blend Fold in rice, cherries and vanilla Pile in sherbet glasses and chill before serving. Serves six

Peanut Butter Bread Pudding requires one cup stale soft bread crumbs two cups milk, scalded, one-half cup each peanut butter and cold milk, one slightly-beaten egg, two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt one-half teaspoon vanilla Soak bread in scalded milk for 15 minutes Place peanut butter in bowl, add one-half of the cold milk, whip with rotary beater until smooth, add remaining milk and whip until smooth.

Combine egg, sugar, salt and vanilla; blend thoroughly. To bread mixture add peanut butter and egg mixtures; blend thoroughly. Turn into buttered baking dish, place in pan of hot water and bake in 350 degrees F. oven for one hour. Serve with cream or hard sauce topped by grated nutmeg Serves six.

Blanc Mange.

Peanut Butter Blanc Mange takes two and three-fourths cups milk, scalded, three tablespoons cornstarch, one-third cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup peanut butter, one-half cup cold milk and one teaspon vanilla. Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add small amount of scalded milk; blend thoroughly. Add to remaining milk in double boiler and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally Cool. Place peanut butter in bowl, add one-half of the cold milk, whip with rotary beater until smooth, add remaining milk and whip until smooth. Add cooled milk mixture. Blend. Add vanilla Chill Serve with cream or whipped cream Serves six

A nice hard sauce takes one-fourth cup each butter and peanut butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla, three-fourths cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Cream butter, add peanut butter, salt, vanilla; blend thoroughly Add sugar a little at a time, creaming well after each addition. Makes one cup sauce

Taffeta For Spring!

By VERA WINSTON

Taffeta is increasing in importance and is likely to rustle through the spring sartorial symphony with great distinction. Here is a delightful dinner dress done in burgundy taffeta which shows touches of green in the light. The deep square decolletage is outlined with silk braid. The braid is also used for the half belt in front. The sleeves, which are puffed at the shoulder, are gathered and shirred with elastic inside to above the elbow, the lower arm being slim and tight. The bodice is form-fitted, going down below the waist in yoke effect. There is much more fullness in back of skirt, which has a train.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

HOW HONORS SHRINK

REPEATED BIDS OF one very long suit or two long ones should warn a prospective doubler that some of his high cards will have to be discarded on the declarer's little ones. In fact, the declarer may run all of the tricks he needs in that particular suit or those particular suits. If he does not, he may run so many that safe discarding becomes impossible and the holder of the strong defensive hand is squeezed.

(Dealer. North East-West vulnerable)

North opened innocuously here with 1-Club. South then bid 1-Heart, North 2-Diamonds, South 3- No trump North 4-Diamonds to show that suit was at least a five-carder and the clubs longer, therefore at least six cards. South gently invited slam with 4-No trump, the natural bid, not any convention. North went to 5-Clubs, South 5-No trump, North 6-No trump and West doubled.

West picked the worst of all possible leads, as it turned out, his spade J, which the singleton Q won. Followed then the club Q, diamond Q to the K and A, and five more clubs On the last West had to choose to discard from his three diamonds, his best two hearts or his spade A. He picked the heart J, whereupon the heart A dropped the K and the heart Q was played. This time West tossed the spade K, diamond J and diamond 10 made the last three tricks for a grand slam, scoring an overtrick doubled.

Etiquette

The fundamental rules for making introductions are simple and easily learned. Here are five rules that will be ever-present helps:

1. As a general rule, mention first the name of the person to whom the introduction is being made; that is, the name of the person who, for any of several reasons, is held in the greater honor.

2. Introduce a man to a woman Mention the woman's name first. (There are a few exceptions to this general rule. One is that a woman is always introduced to the president of the United States, to a king and to a high dignitary of the church To the president, the proper form is, 'Mr. President, I have the honor to present Mrs. Williams.")

Correct forms: "Mrs. Andrews, may I present Mr. Forbes." More informally we may say, "Mrs. Andrews, this is Mr. Forbes." Sometimes it is appropriate to mention the first name also: "Mrs. Andrews, this is Mr. Alexander Forbes"

3. Introduce a young woman to an older woman: "Miss Elder, may I introduce Miss Young?" Introduce a young man to an older man.

4 When you are introducing two women—one a young, unmarried woman; the other an older, married woman—introduce the younger woman to the older, mentioning first the name of the older married woman.

5. Introduce a person of lower rank to a person of higher rank: for instance, a new member of the faculty is introduced to the principal of the school; a captain to a colonel, an office manager to the chairman of the board of directors

Other correct forms of introductions.

"Mr. Allen, Mr. Graham."

"Mrs. Ford, do you know Mrs. Kirk?"

"Mrs. Foster, you know Mrs. Leslie, don't you?"
